Foreword . . .

With the coming of peace and the gradual return to normal living, we have endeavored to portray familiar and beloved scenes representing various aspects of activity about the high school. In future years may this memory book provide the students, and especially the graduating class, with a clear and vivid pictures of high school days.

ADMINISTRATION

C. A. Carson, Principal

Administrative head of Tucson Senior High School, C. A. Carson, principal, constitutes one of the main reasons why this is one of the most efficiently and smoothly run schools in the country.

Carson is responsible to Robert Morrow, Superintendent of Schools, to carry out the policies made by the board of education. He is in charge of the administration in general, which includes expenditures, making rules and regulations for the running of the school, recommendations for employment of personnel on the various staffs, and supervision of instruction, offices, activities, and maintenance.

Andy Tolson, Dean of Boys

Calanthe Brazelton, Dean of Girls

Robert D. Morrow, Superintendent

Another popular member of the administrative staff is Andy Tolson, Dean of Boys, whose duties include counselling, attendance, and discipline. For the last two schools years he has acted as adviser to the returned veterans in T. H. S. In addition to these duties, he sponsors the student council and student body government in general.

Miss Calanthe Brazleton, Dean of Girls, is in charge of the welfare of all girls in the school, as well as of all the school's social life. She handles the personnel end of the attendance office, and is also chairman of the Girls' Social Hour Committee, and head of the Junior Red Cross.

Board of Education

Mr. Carson's Assistants

An important branch of the administration is the book store, and student body activities with Joseph Magee, serving as co-ordinator. All textbooks used in the school, and all financial accounts are handled by Magee and his staff.

The attendance office is running smoothly, as is the registrar's office, under the direction of Miss Elizabeth Chilson, who replaced Miss Sally Sphar, former registrar.

Carson's office continues to function efficiently under the direction of Miss Ruth Fuller, assisted by Miss Betty Flake.

The cafeteria staff, which prepares and sells lunches for students and teachers, is supervised by Mrs. Lucille Davidson.

The appearance and upkeep of the school buildings and grounds are in the hands of Mike Riesgo and his janitor staff; Donald Guthrie, head gardener; A. C. Downs, head engineer; and Roy Saxon, watchman.

Administration in action
Classes on Review

Student

JIM TOLLEY, President

Presented herewith are the ten "fortunates" who led the student body through another year of activity. Under the title of Student Council, this body made the rules and regulations for those of us who ran in the halls when we were late for class. They were elected from all three classes for two semesters. Th Senior Councilmen and the Junior Councilmen were elected at the end of last year for this year's term. The Sophomores weren't around last year, and so they had to elect their Councilmen at the beginning of this year, along with everything else.

Administration

PEGGY BOICE, Secretary

BILL OVER, Vice-President

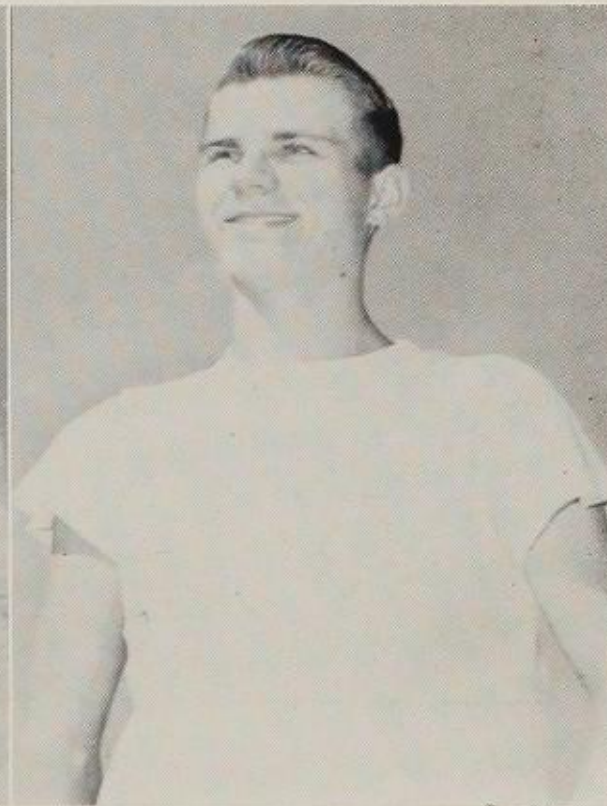

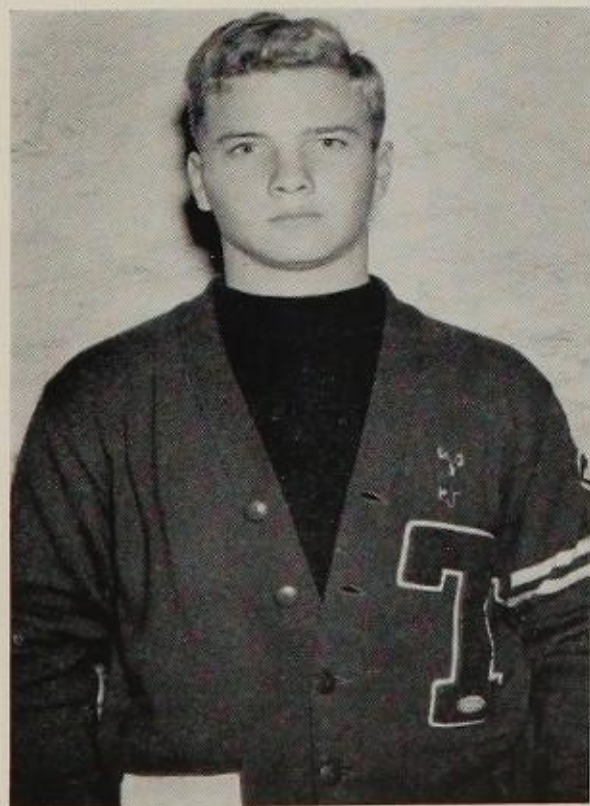

An amendment to the Constitution changed the election dates of the Junior and Senior class officers last year. It was moved forward so that the balloting could be handled with city equipment.

SENIOR CLASS

Aside from its other obvious characteristics of superiority, the Senior Class of 1946 was distinguished as the first peace time graduating class in four years, a distinction which was definitely to our advantage in many ways . . . the personal and patriotic gratification that victory and the cession of hostilities brings . . . the privilege of sharing graduation honors with a number of World War II veterans, returned to high school to complete their secondary education . . . the return to pre-war standards for such events as the Senior Prom, Ditch Day, Senior Assembly, and the Graduation Dance.

Elected to lead the Seniors during 1945-46, and a fine job they did, were: Tom Fridena, class president; Jim Bartlett, vice-president; Mary Kay Ellington, secretary. The Senior Class Cabinet included: Jim Tolley, Bill Over, Peggy Boice, Craig Smith, Bill Hassey, Art Pacheco, Bob Cooney, Ann Hutchinson, Frank Borman, Georgia Keahy, Bill Okeson, Shirley Talmage, Carolyn Brady, Lorena DeSanctis, Helen McIntosh, Johnny Newburn, Bob Acosta, George Smith, Gail Rogers, Miriam Hamilton, and Wayne Crutchfield.

These were the people who not only planned the Senior Class affairs but were right at the head of the crowd when they rolled around, to set an example of Badger spirit.

The Senior Prom this year was, of course, the most swell-elegant of all Senior Proms. Unique and very suave, the black and white patent leather scheme carried out in the wall decorations, the bandstand, the souvenirs, and the dance programs. That was a night we're not likely to forget.

Senior Prom in the making

Then, before we knew it, we were graduating. Like the thousands before us and the thousands to come after us we crossed the platform, received the diploma and the handshake that wrote "finis" to our high school career.

Junior Class

Into their second year at T. H. S., the Miss and Mr. In-betweens of high school life started the ball rolling by electing personality plus Ben Hill to lead them to a most successful year. Assisting "Beeno" in his gavel-pounding duties were efficient Grant Howard as vice-prexy, charming Lorraine Caffrey as secretary, and as councilmen, Halden Lowry and Catherine Chakiris. Claimed by California in the early part of the school year, Catherine was later replaced by Mary Lou Briscoe. Adviser for the Juniors again this year was Miss Marjorie Robinson.

The officers put their heads together, and out popped a novelty idea for the hectic Junior Assembly held on February 27 to advertise the Junior Prom. It featured an enactment of a biography of the junior class from its infancy in the early days of T. H. S. to what it is (?) today, combining song, dance, and talk into one show. Despite all the fun, the assembly had a definite moral to it, for included in it were problems which have baffled the faculty for ages, such as how to cope with conduct in the halls and cafeteria. Special credit for the success of the show goes to Miss Madge Utterback, who directed the singers; Miss Virginia Botsford, who wrote the script; Miss Virginia Robinson, who directed the dancing.

A night that will long bring back memories to all who attended it was March 23, the night of the Junior Prom. Large paper flowers hanging on "branches" growing out of the ceiling and other such gay, floral designs carried out the theme of "Springtime in the Garden." Miss Eva Culley was the adviser of the Prom Decorations Committee. As usual, the juniors opened the flowery doors to their superiors, the seniors, who were guests of honor. The ever-faithful Sophomores again manned the cloak room with an iron hand. The dancers stepped dreamily to the mellow strains of Johnny Barringer's Swing Band. Then, too, there were delicious refreshments. Yes, the Prom was perfect.

Sophomore Class

As old Father Time shot the gun setting the class of '48 off to another year of school, T.H.S. awakened to the fact that within its portals had wandered the largest group of sophomores in its history. Despite the constant heckling of their masters, the juniors and seniors, of course, the sophs settled rapidly into the grind of high school life by putting wee Willard Snyder into the president's chair. Bob Bailey was wisely chosen vice-prexy, while Mary Jackson served as the minutewoman at all meetings of the sophomore council in her capacity as secretary. Don "Lefty" Bacon and Dick "Van Johnson" Miller were the councilmen.

The officers were greatly aided by the assistance of two top-notch advisers, Miss Anna Hughes and Lowell C. Bailey.

On April 10, the sophies staged their riotous assembly featuring Mike Pistor and Company.

Their red letter day came on March 30, when the Sophomore Hop, carefully planned by the officers, advisers, and council, was revealed to the world. From the Junior Prom decorations of "Springtime in the Garden," Miss Eva Culley, art director, conceived the idea of giving our friends from the insect world a chance at the fun, and as a result, "worms" were seen growing out of huge apples, while giant "butterflies" clung to the walls. Tom Burrows and the Swing Band provided music for the never-to-be-forgotten occasion.

With such a brilliant beginning the Sophomore Class is sure to carry the flag of T.H.S. to newer and greater glories.

UNDEFEATED VARSITY SQUAD

State Champions

The Tucson Badger gridders marched through an eleven-game schedule without defeat to complete their third consecutive undefeated season and win their third state championship in a row, while running their victory string to 32 straight games over a four year span.

Such outstanding senior stars as Art Pacheco, Joe Kelley, Oscar Carrillo, Jim Tolley, Wayne Crutchfield, and Tom Fridena finished their third and final season with a great Badger outfit that never once tasted defeat.

Under the very able coaching of Rollin T. Gridley, the Badgers amassed 228 points to their opponents 33, in taking a pair of victories from Phoenix Union Coyotes, St. Mary's Knights, and their greatest rivals, the Mesa

FIRST SQUAD

Jackrabbits, and single wins over North Phoenix, Glendale, Douglas, Bisbee, and Austin of El Paso. Tucson held its opponents scoreless in the first five games, Mesa scoring the first touchdown against the powerful Badgers.

Tucson started off the 1945 season with a bang, when Left Half Oscar Carrillo returned the opening kickoff 80 yards for a touchdown in a 15-0 conquest of the Coyotes in Phoenix. Quarterback Lee "Legs" Carey fractured his wrist, keeping him out of action most of the season. Right Half Cay Morrison tallied the other TD, and Tom Fridena, fiery center, scored a safety.

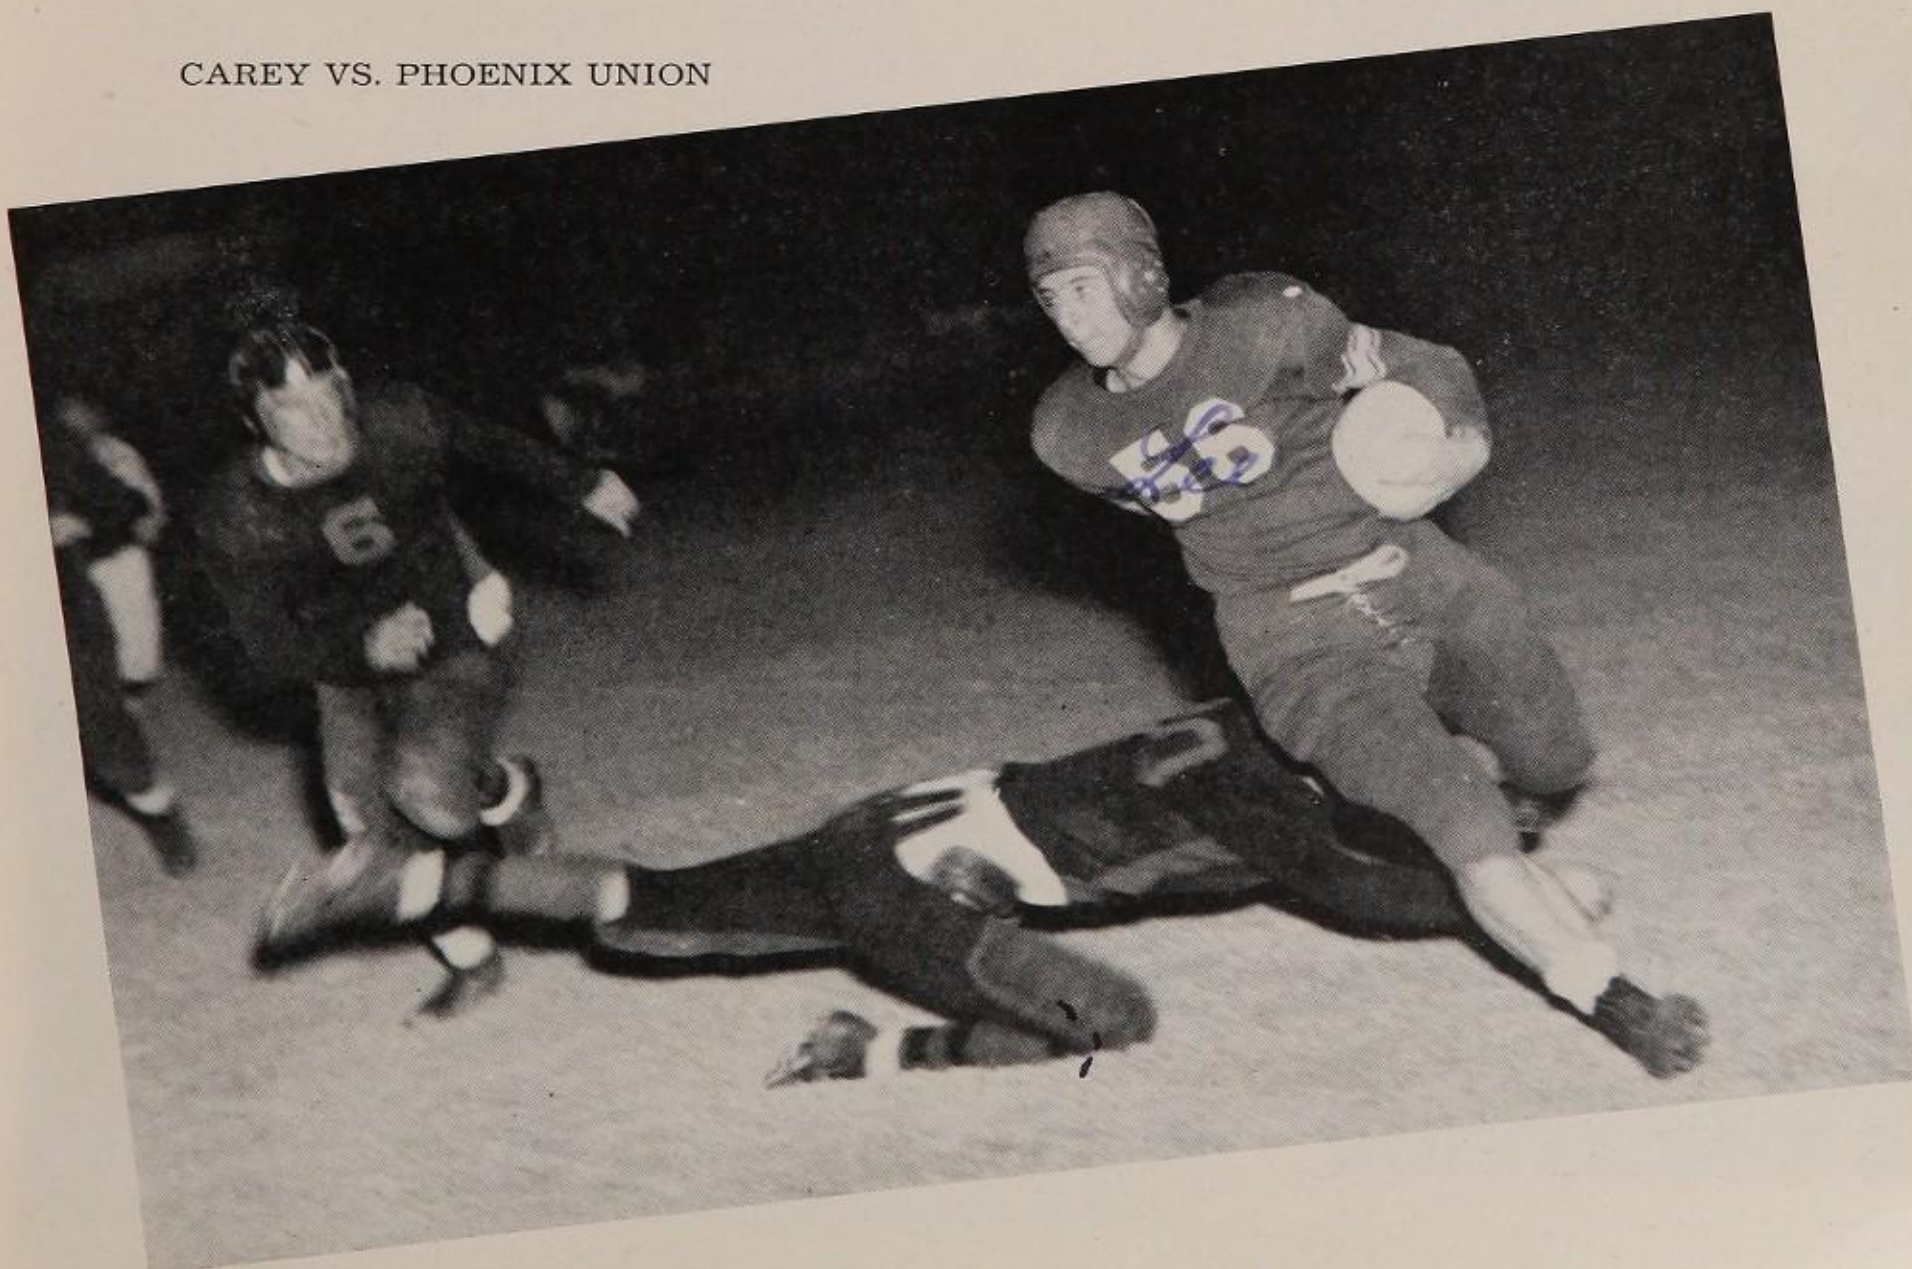

The Badgers' second game was a 12-0 win in the first of a series against Austin Panthers before 9,000 at Tucson. Carrillo and Fullback Bill Walker plunged over for Tucson's two second-half scores.

Carrillo scored two touchdowns, one on a 49-yard run, and Fullback Karl Eller tallied once in 20-0 win over St. Mary's here. This was followed by a 32-0 rout of Bisbee in which Eller scored two touchdowns, one on a 78-yard run. Frank Borman, quarterback, ran 86 yards for one score, and Bill Walker and Herman Bingham also scored.

BADGERS ON THE ROAD

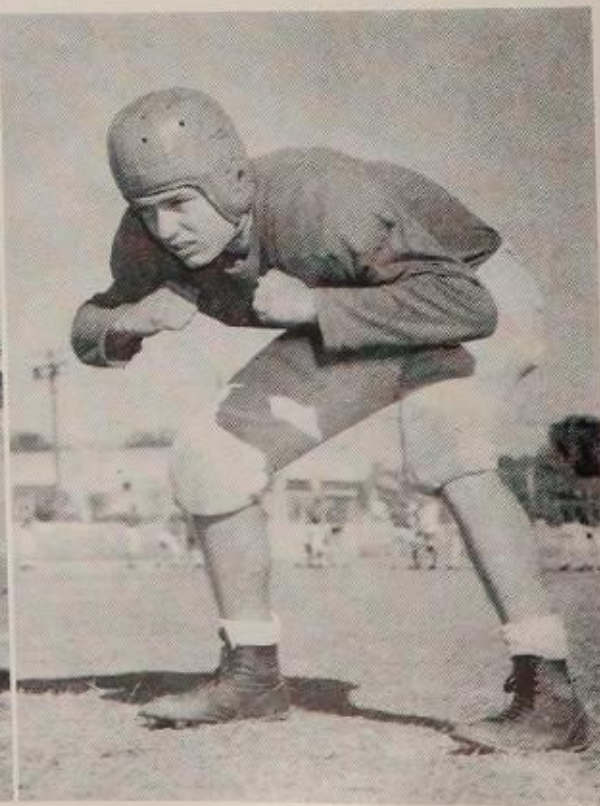

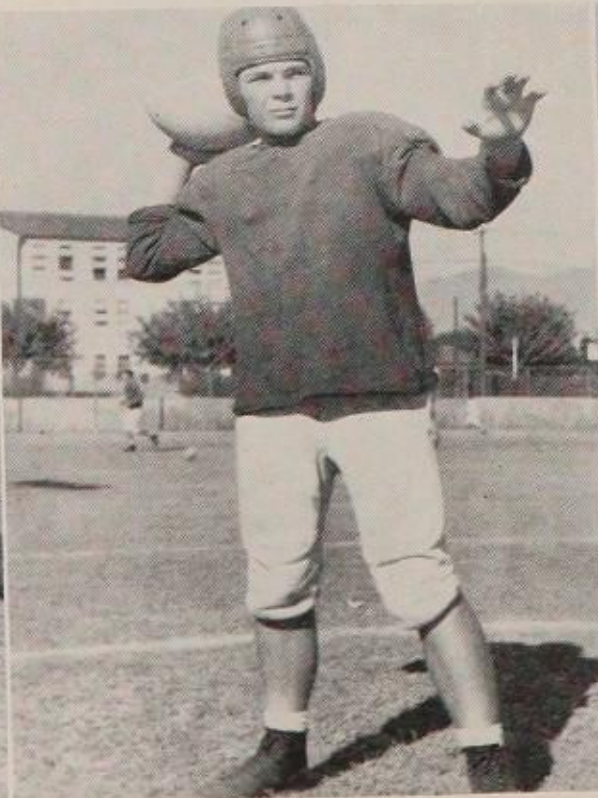

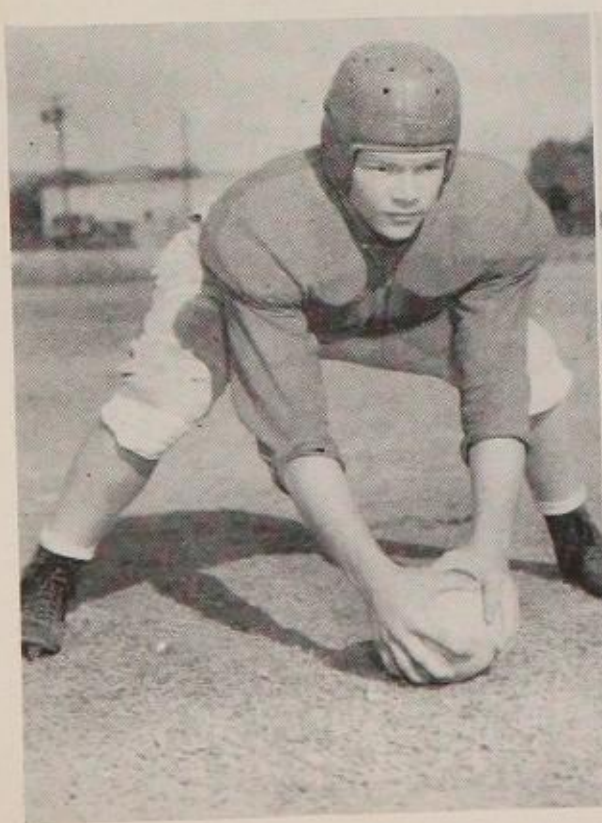

Carrillo scored twice to spark the Badgers' second-half rally in a 21-0 victory at North Phoenix, the first on a 73-yard run-back of a pass interception. Eller also returned an intercepted pass 60 yards to pay dirt. Right Tackle Nils Johansson kicked all three extra points.

The largest crowd ever to witness a football game in Tucson, 13,000, packed the University stadium to watch Tucson defeat Mesa, 14-7. Carrillo and Morrison scored for Tucson, and Wilford "Whizzer" White, Rabbit back, countered for Mesa on a fourth-quarter pass, using the ancient "sleeper" play to push over the first touchdown of the season against the Red and White.

Travelling upstate, Tucson again knocked off St. Mary's, 17-0, with Carrillo and Morrison racking up the Badgers' touchdowns. Johansson added both PAT's and a 30-yard field goal to the total. Borman and Art Pacheco, steady left end, suffered minor leg injuries.

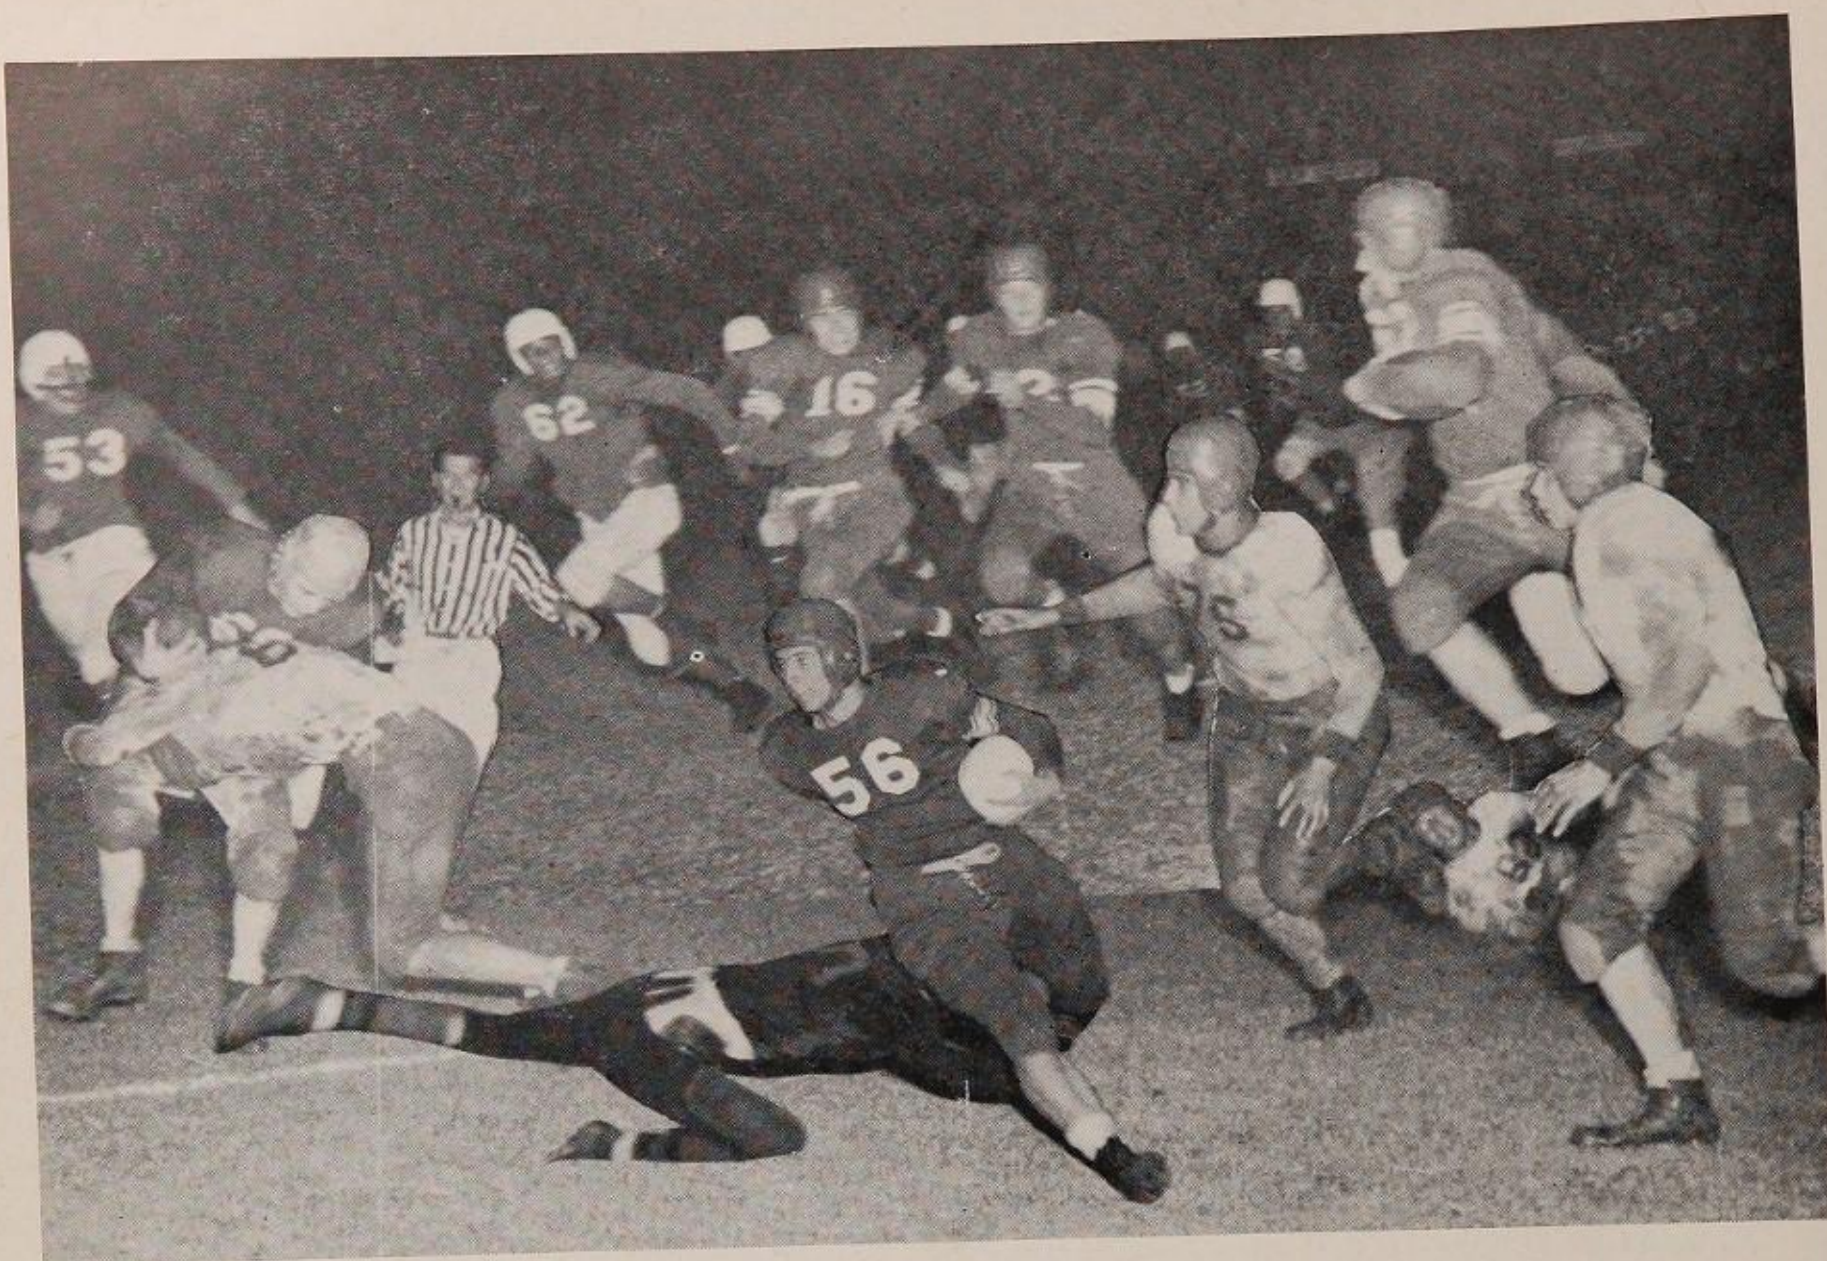

The Badgers celebrated their home-coming with a 28-6 trouncing of the Douglas Bulldogs. Carrillo scored twice, Morrison once, and Lee Carey celebrated his return to the lineup with the last TD. Douglas' only tally was a 22-yard run by Freshman Gib Dawson.

TUCSON TAKES THE OFFENSIVE

Lee Carey ran wild against Phoenix Union in the next game, scoring three times on long runs. The first, a repetition of the opener, was a 90-yard run-back on the opening kickoff, followed by a 51-yard punt-return, and then a 52-yard end run. The other scores were made by Carrillo and Sophomore Dick Miller on a pass. Johansson ran his PAT string to 16 straight.

Traveling to Glendale, the Badgers whipped the scrappy Cardinals, 25-13, with Carey scoring two TD's, one on a 55-yard punt-return. Borman and Eller also countered for Tucson. The Cards garnered two last-quarter touchdowns on passes from Manuel Aja to Barry Arney.

Climaxing their third straight undefeated season, the Badgers needed all their strength to beat the tough Mesa Jackrabbits, 9-0, in a Thanksgiving Eve game at Mesa. Johansson's difficult 31-yard field goal late in the first quarter provided a three-point lead that stood until Oscar Carrillo romped 17 yards for the only touchdown in the last period. Center Tom Fridena was knocked out in a collision with "Whizzer" White in the third quarter.

For one of the most successful seasons in the team's history and for a job well done, hats off to the 1945 football Badgers!

Cub Football

The Tucson High Cubs ended their 1945 gridiron season with a record of two wins, two defeats, and one tie. To Manny Greenblatt, Cub quarterback, goes much credit for the success of the team. The whole team, under the able coaching of Hanley Slagle, worked hard and earnestly for what they received.

The Cubs met Amphitheater in their season opener and came out on the short end of a 12-7 count. Halfback Eddie Jacome scored Tucson's lone touchdown on a line buck. The Panthers made their counters in the first and last quarters.

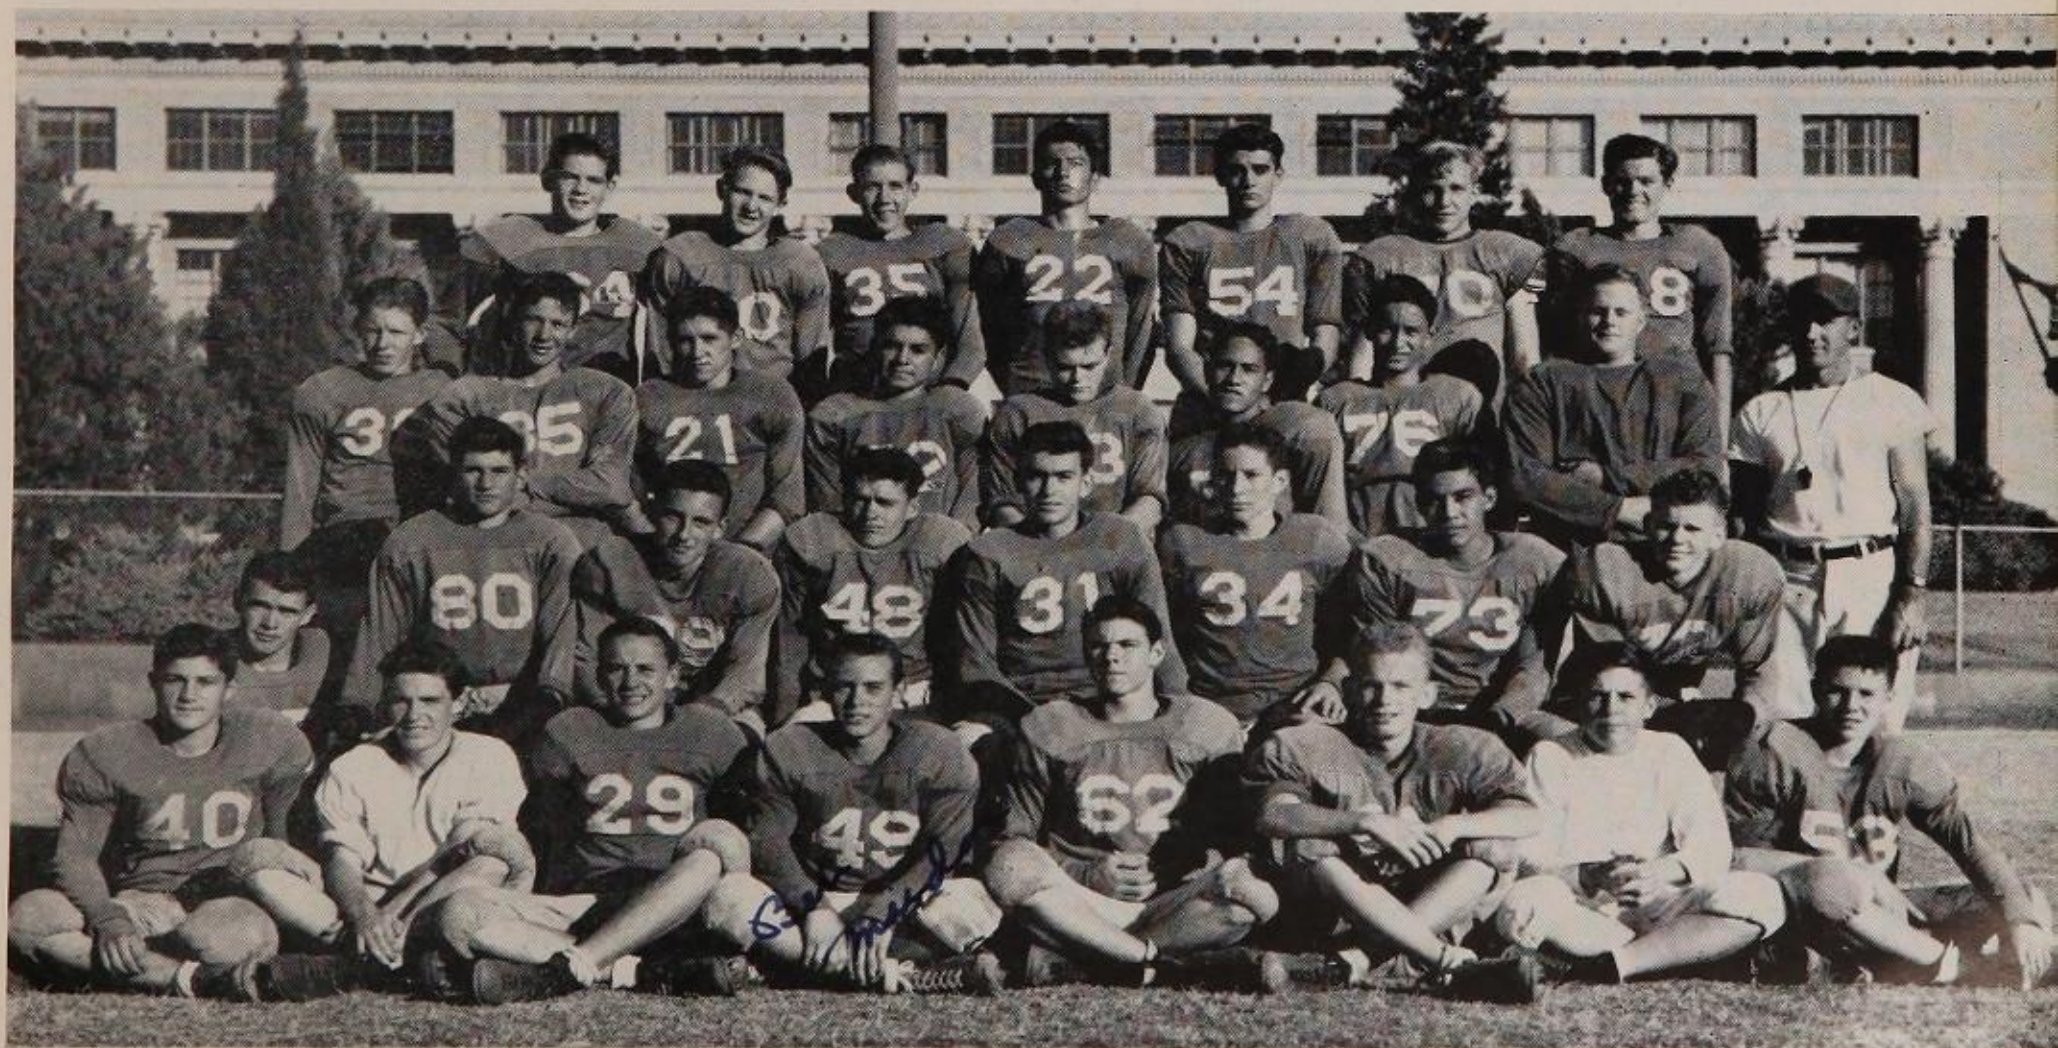

In their second game of the season the Cubs met the Amphitheater eleven again, this time in the Tucson stadium, and when the final whistle had blown, the score was tied, 19-19. The lead changed hands many times throughout the game, which turned out to be an offensive struggle.

Following the Amphitheater game, the Cubs journeyed to Tombstone to win their first game, 13-6, from Tombstone. After trailing for a quarter, the Cubs' first score came when Bob Washington plowed his way over. In the final period Greenblatt hit Howard King with a touchdown pass for the last score.

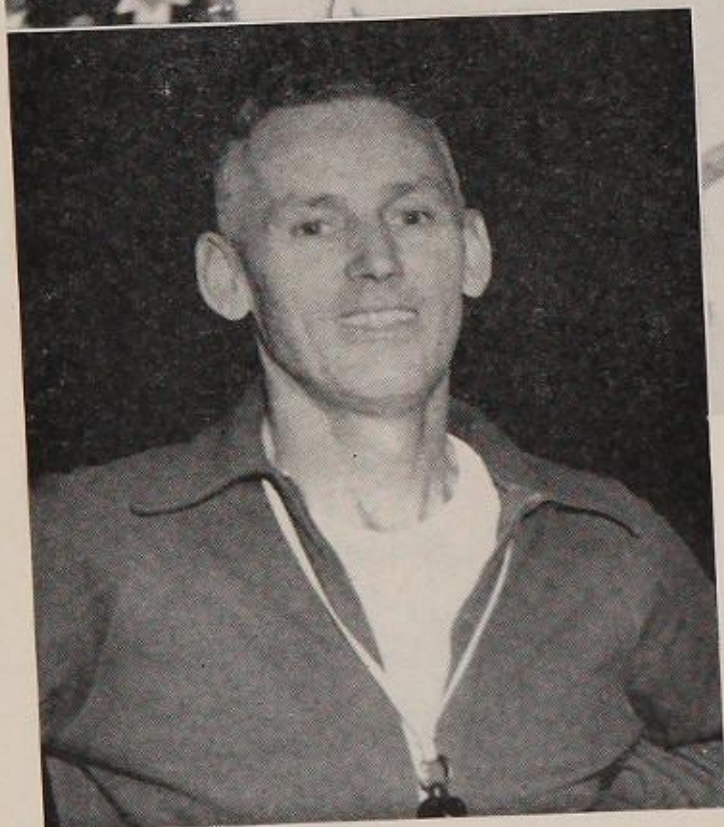

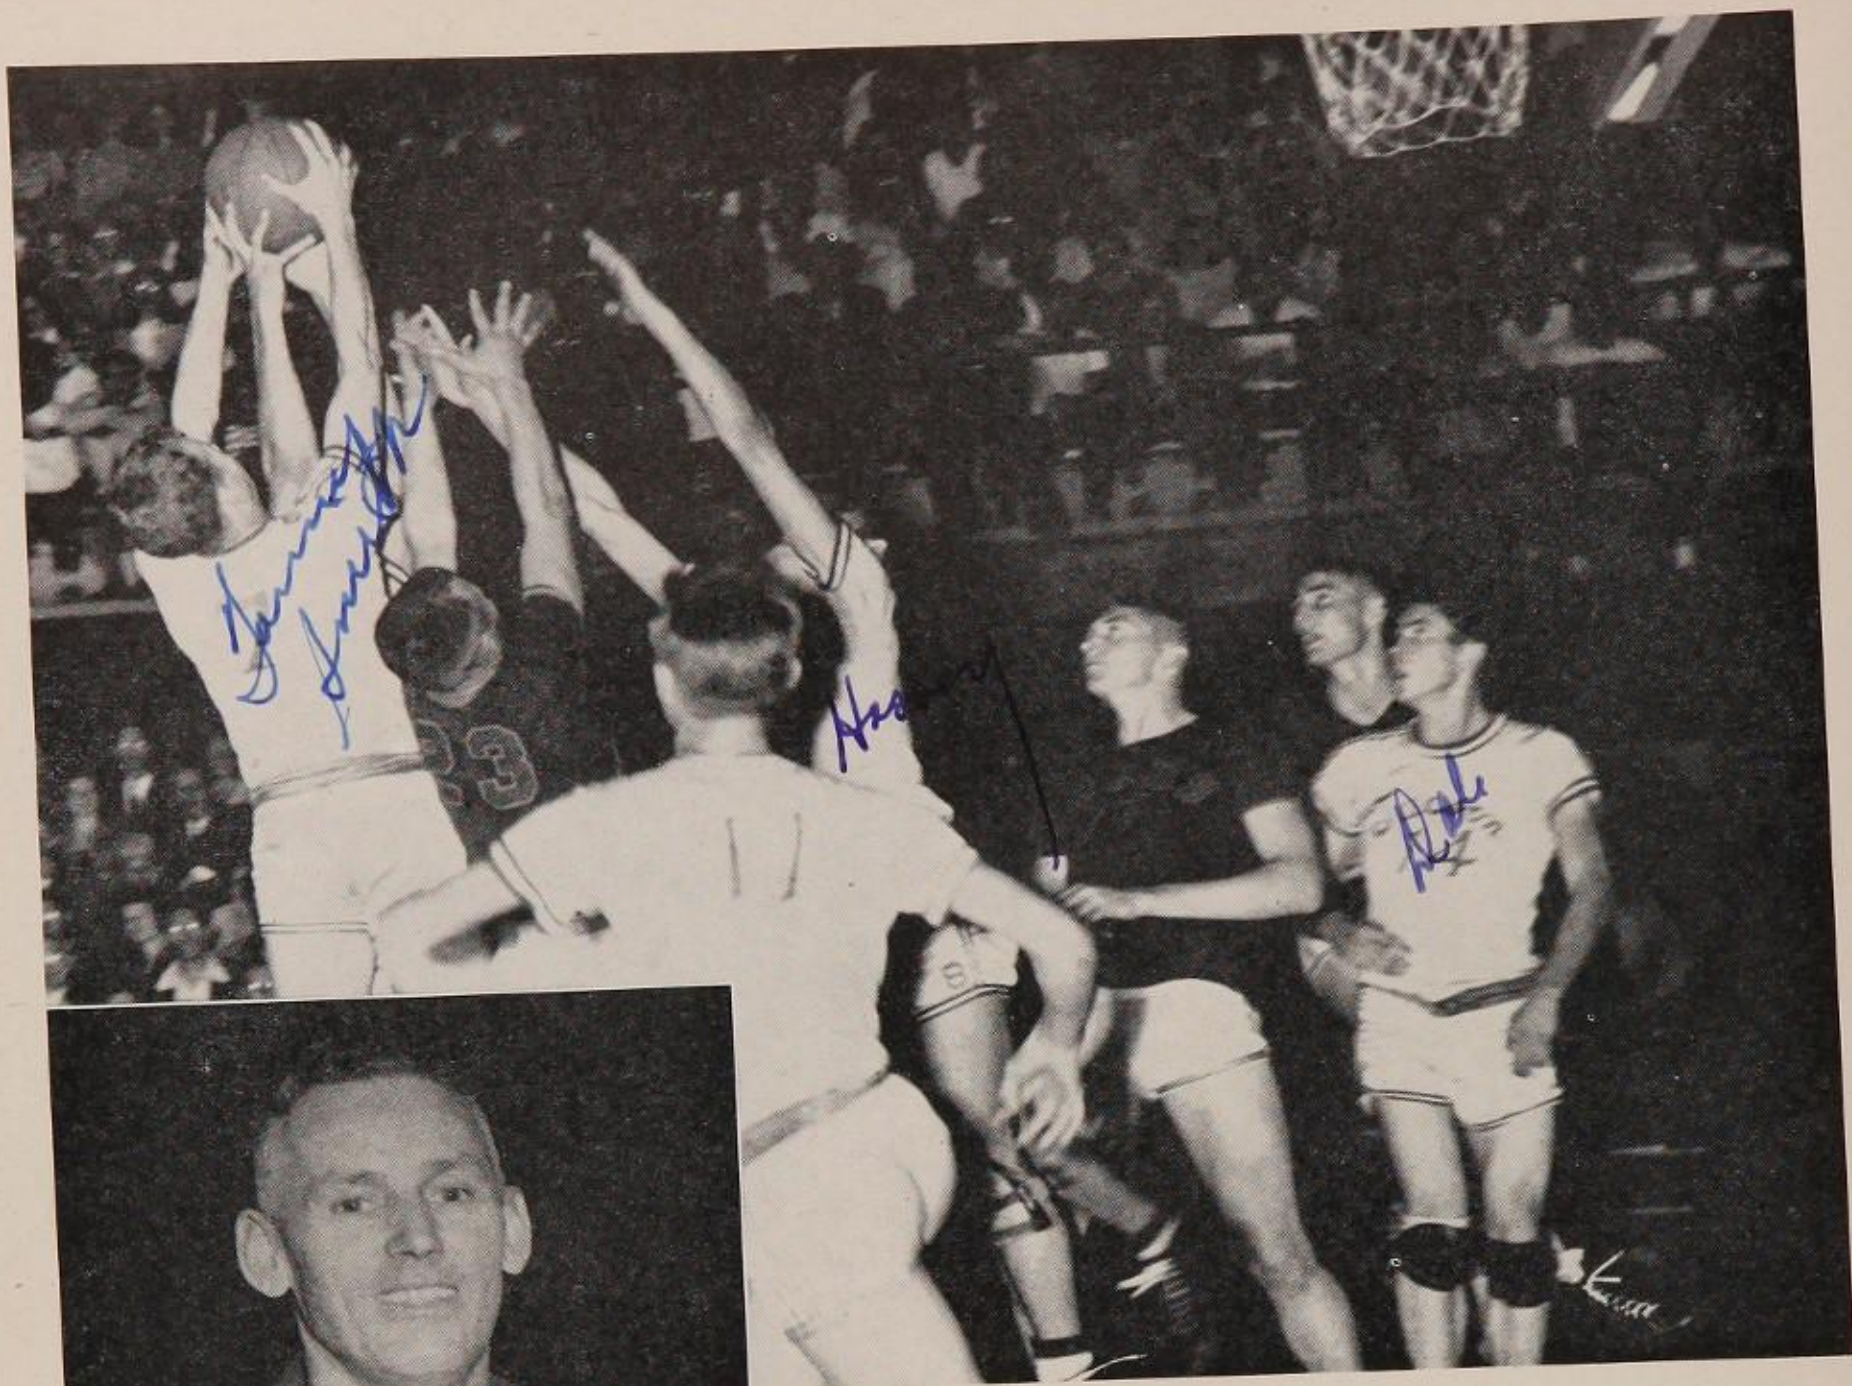

Returning from Tombstone with a victory, the Junior varsity faced Amphitheater again, and again the Badgers came out on the short end of the score, this time 13-6. Amphi took an early lead, but in the second quarter Howard Jones raced around end for a touchdown to tie up the game, 6-6. In the final period the Panthers scored again on a power play. After suffering two defeats from the Panthers, the Cubs finally got their revenge by plastering the Amphitheater Reserves, 52-0. The Panther Cubs did not cross Tucson's thirty-yard stripe all afternoon. The Tucson team had them at their mercy and scored almost at will. When the game ended, Tucson had pushed across eight touchdowns, two extra points, and a safety.

These Badger Cubs will form Tucson's reserve power next year, with some possibly breaking into the starting lineup. At any rate they deserve a great deal of credit for their patience and hard work.

Basketball Review

After soaring through a 20-game schedule with 16 victories against four defeats and winning the Southern Conference title, the Tucson Badgers entered the State Basketball Tournament at the University of Arizona to defend the State crown won by the 1945 Badgers, but were eliminated in the second round by the powerful Glendale Cardinals in a thrilling 40-36 contest. The Badgers scored a 41-25 triumph over Safford in the first round.

Following Tucson's elimination, Mesa, the tournament's sixteenth team chosen from the state at large, shattered all precedents in rising from a definite underdog position to win the State title, trouncing Glendale, 44-37, in the championship game.

The Badger starting lineup consisted of Tom Smith and Lee Carey at forwards, Jim Dunlap at center, and Karl Eller and Captain Bill Hassey at guards. All-State Horney Thomas suffered a pre-season foot injury which kept him out of the first four games. T.H.S. opened its season on December 6 in Benson with a 39-19 win over the Bobcats, and returned home to wallop St. David, 67-16, the following night, with Bill Hassey scoring 13 points in the first quarter.

The Badgers traveled upstate the following two weekends, and, after beating Chandler, 26-23, lost to North Phoenix in a thrilling 30-29 overtime tilt. Tucson then fell before St. Mary's 28-27, and Mesa, 37-35, in another overtime contest. Thomas caged 11 points before fouling out in the St. Mary's fray, and Smith paced the Badgers with 11 against Mesa. In each of the three defeats Tucson trailed by a considerable margin at halftime and outplayed the opponents in the latter half.

Following Christmas vacation, the Tucson hoopsters proceeded to polish off Amphitheater, 42-14, and Nogales, 76-3, in history's worst slaughter on the local court. The Badger quintet next met Phoenix Union, in the Capital City, where the Coyotes knocked off the Red and White, 34-25.

Thomas scored 13 and Dunlap 10 to pace Tucson in celebrating its homecoming by taking revenge on the North Phoenix Mustangs, 36-22. The Badgers followed up with a 29-9 conquest of hard-fighting Amphitheater.

The Badgers had to call on the second string in a 54-25 triumph over Nogales. The Badgers then evened the score against St. Mary's Knights, taking a 37-34 victory as Thomas again starred, hitting the nets for 14 points.

Tucson took its seventh straight win by beating the Douglas Bulldogs, 33-25, with Thomas hooping in 15 tallies for the Badgers. The following evening the Badger quintet settled another score by beating Phoenix Union, 33-20. Thomas and Carey each put in 11 points to lead Tucson scoring. The Badgers made it ten in a row with a 35-23 win over Bisbee, followed by a 32-22 triumph over Mesa.

Track

The Badger Thinclads, defending their 1945 State championship, started the '46 season under a slight handicap with a nucleus of only eight lettermen returning to Coach J. D. "Doc" Van Horne. These were Bill Tucker and Jim Davis, sprinters; Charles Graves, miler; Norman Gaisford and Horace Bounds, quarter-milers; Pat Kimmerling, hurdler; Jim Bartlett and Isaiah Taylor, jumpers.

As the season progressed, the squad was strengthened by the development of other men: Yancey Gaston, Ray Porter, and Vernor Lovett, sprinters; Ed Adams and Doug Ward, quarter-milers; Chuck Scheib, Don Knotts, and Wayne Crutchfield, half-milers; Howard Jones and Carlos Higuera, milers; Cay Morrison, Bob Hastings, Jack Armstrong, and Max Klinger, hurdlers.

The Badgers' greatest weakness has been in the field events, especially the shot put and discus throw. One of the best broad jumpers in the state is Jim Bartlett, who also runs the high hurdles. "Ike" Taylor is tops in the high jump and shot put, and Al Quiroz throws the discus the farthest. Gail Rogers, Bud Shumaker, Virgil Stewart, and Bob Mardon comprise the pole vaulters.

In the first meet of the season, a dual meet at Glendale, the Badgers took eight of a possible twelve firsts, rolling up  $84\frac{1}{2}$  points to  $31\frac{1}{2}$  for the Cardinals.

Next, travelling to the Valley, Tucson took six firsts in winning a triangular meet with Phoenix Union and North Phoenix. The Badger half-mile relay team of Gaston, Adams, Davis, and Tucker decided the affair in the final event, giving the Badgers a  $3\frac{1}{2}$  point edge over the Coyotes.

The T.H.S. tracksters then suffered their first defeat in four years in a dual meet with Mesa at the U. of A. Paced by "Whizzer" White's 18 points, the Jackrabbits took a close 57-56 decision from the Badgers, whose top man was "Clark" Kimmerling, who won both hurdle events.

In the Arizona State Relays, now held in place of the Mesa Relays, Tucson edged out a narrow one-point victory over second-place Mesa, 32-31. The Badgers took firsts in the shuttle hurdle relay, quarter-mile relay, half-mile relay, and the half-mile medley.

DEAD HEAT IN THE HALF MILE

Tucson sustained an unfortunate blow after the meet when ace sprinter Bill Tucker suffered an attack of appendicitis, keeping him from any further competition.

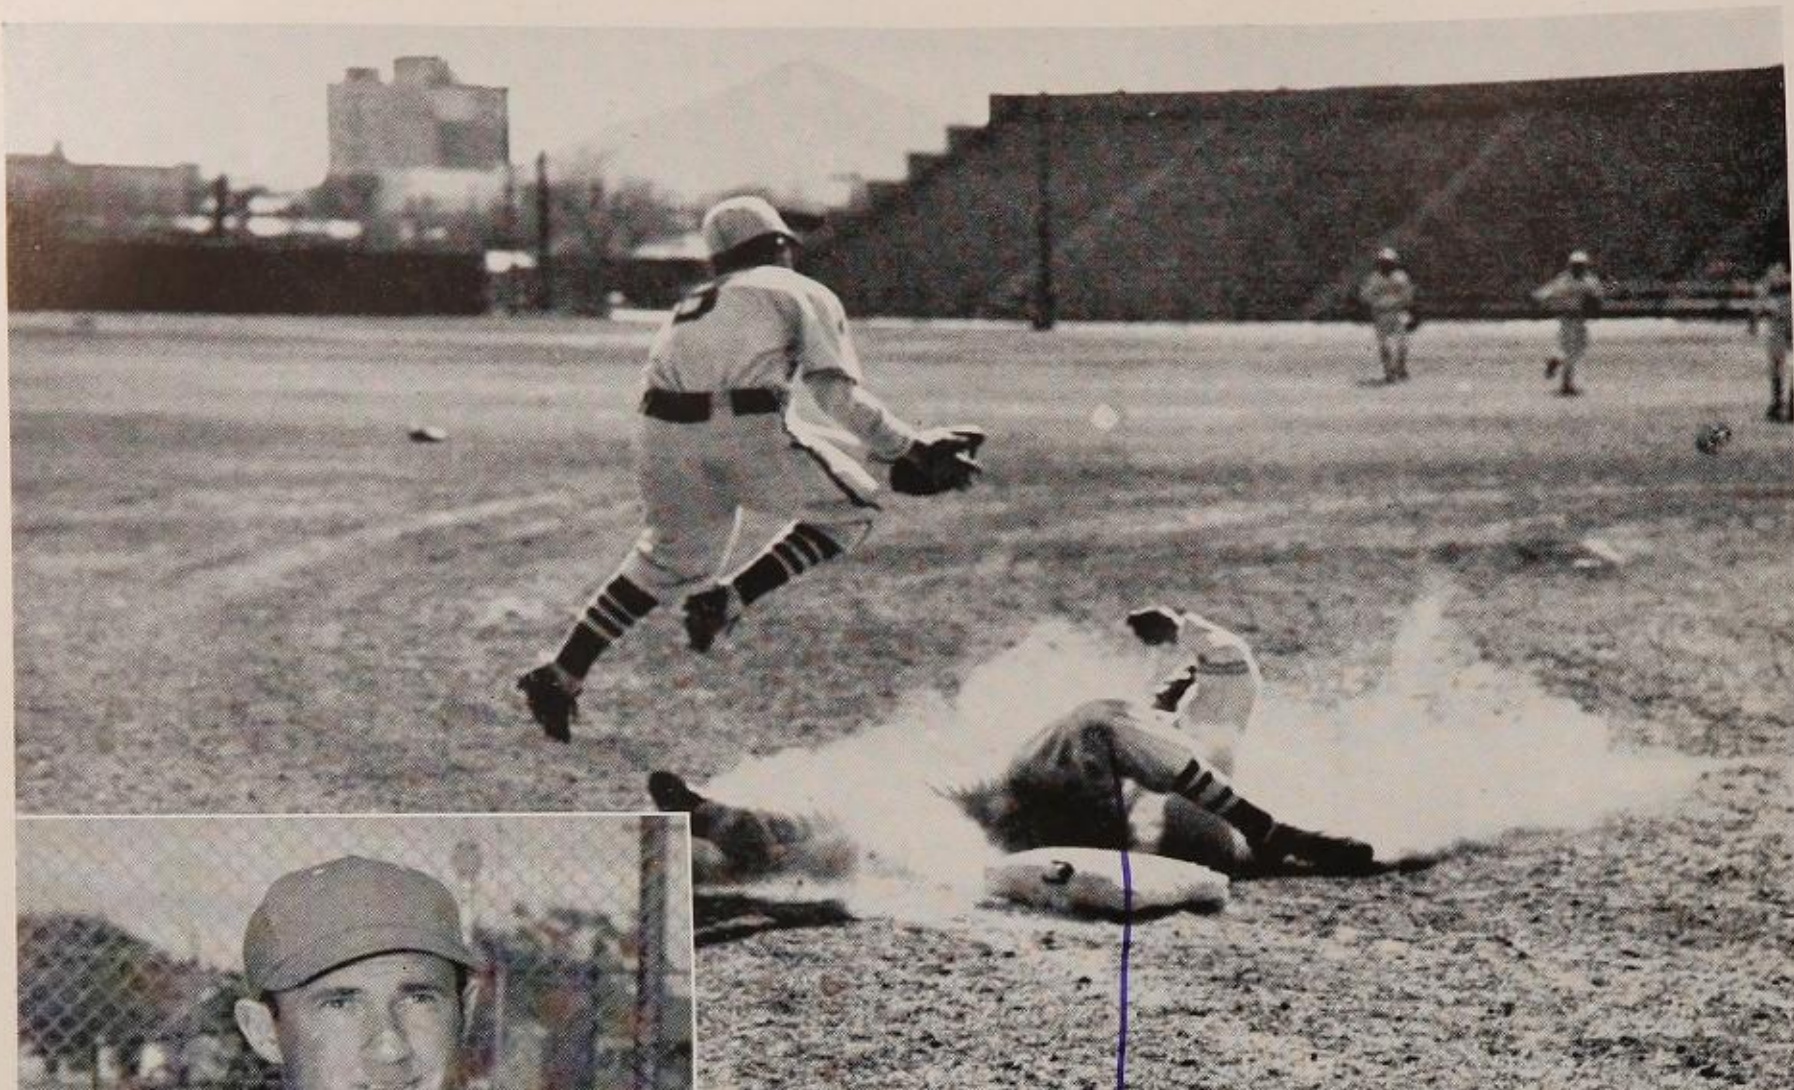

The following weekend Gaston led the Badgers to an exciting 58  $\frac{2}{3}$ -54  $\frac{1}{3}$  triumph over P. U. at the University. In the final meet before the State finals the injury-riddled Red and White thinclads were edged by North Phoenix, 57  $\frac{5}{6}$ -55  $\frac{1}{6}$ .

The Badger Cubs entered two meets, placing third in the annual Bowie Invitational and taking top honors at the Douglas Invitational.

BASEBALL SQUAD

Baseball

With a veteran infield and a hard-hitting outfield, the Badgers are looming as a repeater for the State baseball crown. Coach Hanley "Hank" Slagle has an excellent squad which includes eleven returning lettermen. Among these are Catcher Bob Murray, an infield composed of Captain Lee

Carey, Captain, Third Base

Carey, batting in the cleanup spot, at third base, Shortstop Bob Acosta, Chet Vasey at the keystone sack, and Nils Johansson alternating with Roy Robison on first, and the outfield of Dale Edwards in left, Bill Hassey in center, and Cliff Myrick, right field. All but Vasey and Robison are seniors.

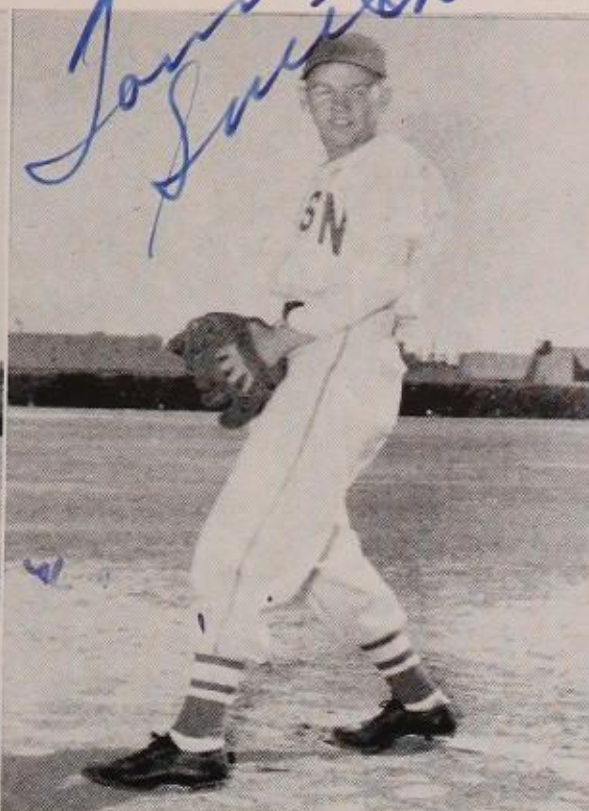

Myrick, a left-handed hitter and the only starter who is not a returning letterman, is the squad's leading batter, slugging the pill at better than a .500 clip. Hassey is an excellent fielder, possessing one of the most accurate throwing arms in the state, while Acosta, Carey, and Vasey form an air-tight infield. Hassey and Carey are both playing their third season as Badger regulars.

Supposedly weak in the pitching department, Tucson has displayed four of the best hurdlers in the state: Eddie Jacome, Tommy

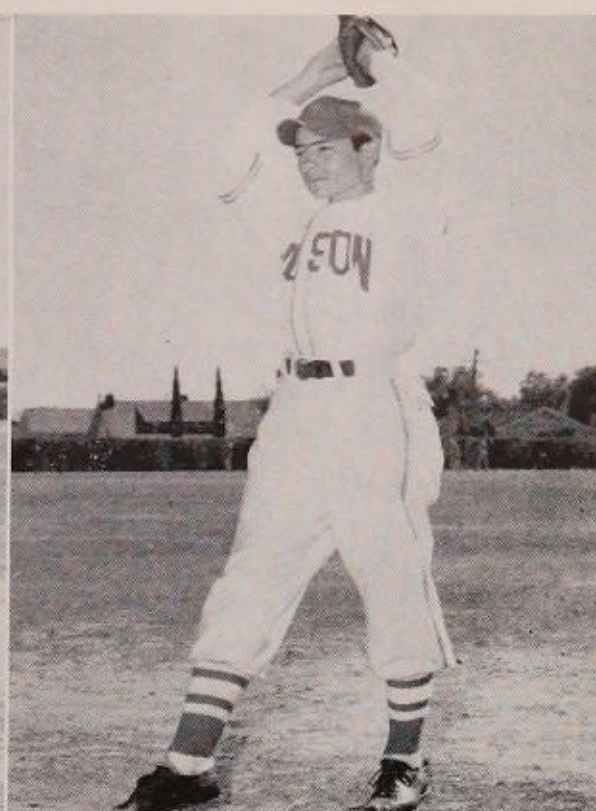

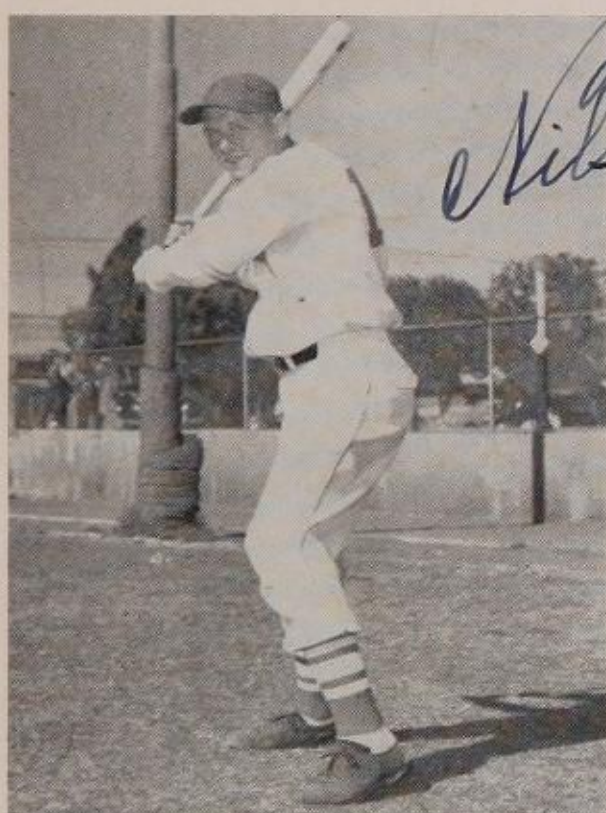

Tolson, Pitcher

Smith, Pitcher

Jacome, Pitcher

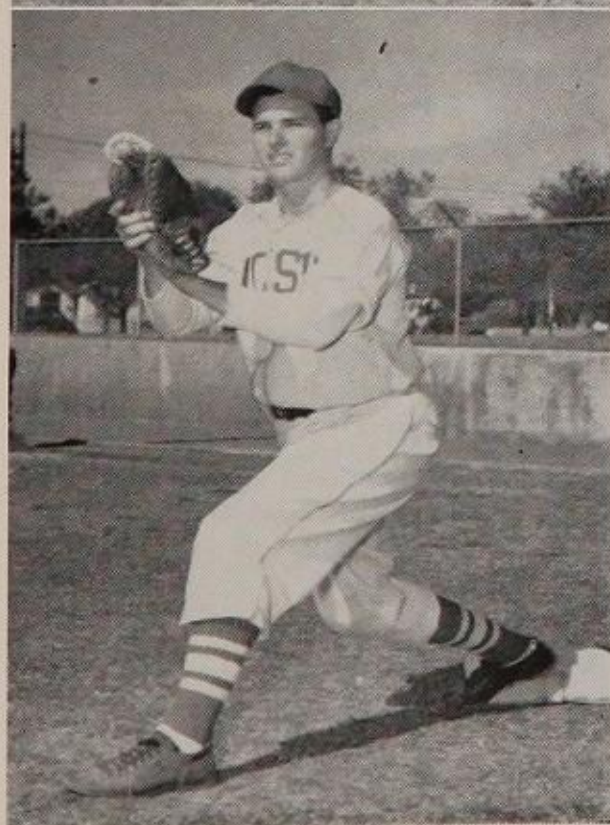

Johansson,

BASEBALLERS AT PRACTICE

Smith, Brad Tolson, and Jack Uvodich, all right handers. Jacome twirled a no-hitter in the season opener as the Badgers walloped St. Mary's, 15-1, on the home diamond. In the second game Smith tossed a one-hitter against Amphitheater in a 2-0 rout. This was followed by a 23-2 victory over Yuma with Tolson pitching two-hit ball in the last game on the Badger diamond.

Jacome gained his second victory with a four-hit job against Phoenix Union as the Red and Whites pounded three Coyote pitchers for 13 hits in a 19-1 rout at Randolph Park. The following week the Badgers battled the Latin-Americans, a local semi-pro team, to a seven-inning 5-5 deadlock with Uvodich on the mound.

On the first weekend in April, Tucson avenged an afternoon track defeat by trouncing Mesa, whom Tucson defeated in the state finals last year, 11-2 with Smith chucking. The next night Tolson hurled a two-hitter against North Phoenix as the Badgers won their sixth straight game, 6-0, at Randolph Park.

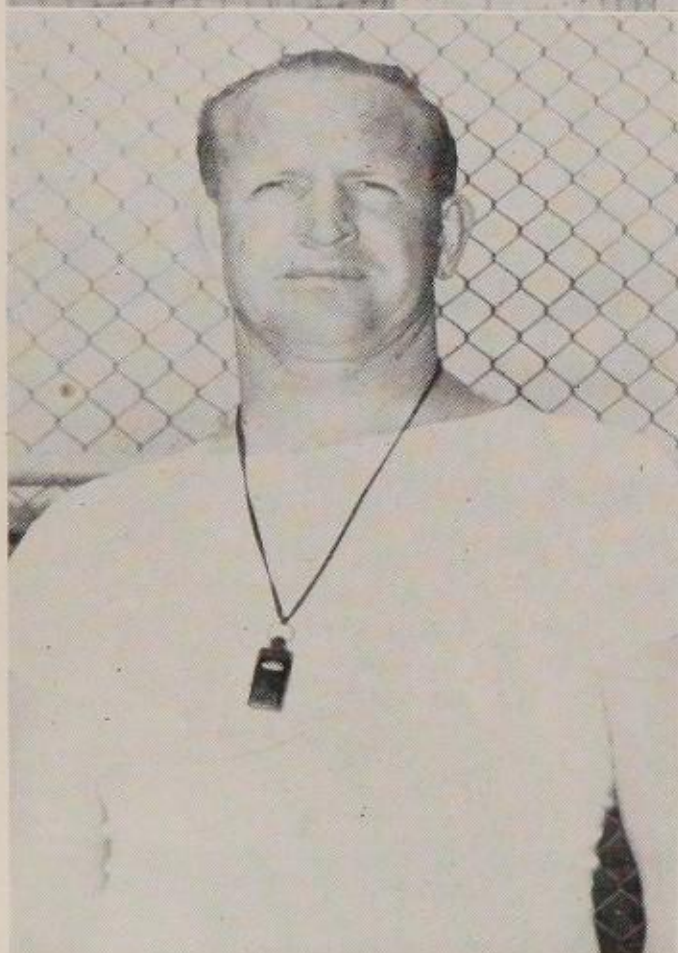

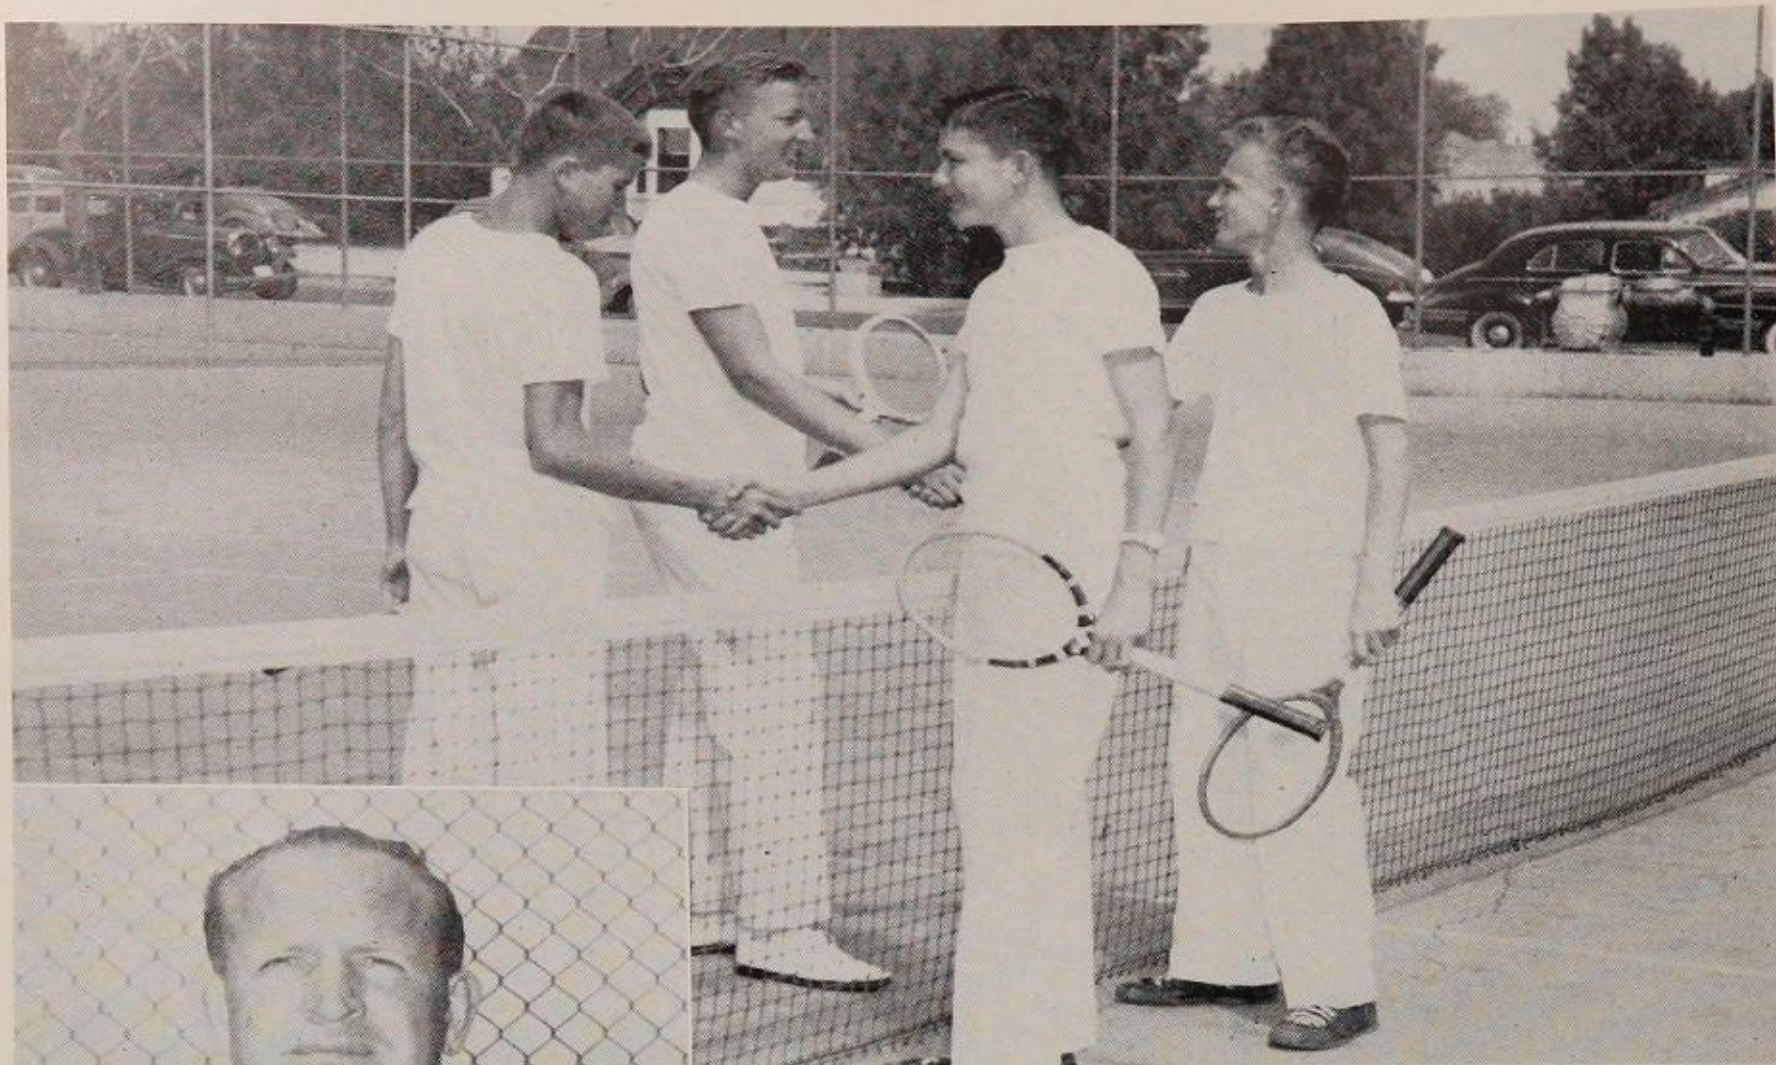

TUCSON VS. AMPHITHEATER

The Badgers followed these up with a 17-1 win at Amphitheater as Jacome tossed a two-hitter for his third decision. A trip to Phoenix the following week-end netted a double victory over St. Mary's and Phoenix Union. Tolson hurled two-hit ball to beat the Knights, 8-1, and Smith set the Coyotes down, 16-3.

BOYS' TENNIS SQUAD

Boys' Tennis Team

Coached by Jason "Bunny" Greer, the Badger tennis squad, defending State champion, has turned in many sparkling net performances this year. Having lost the services of such stalwarts as Bill Souers and Frank Iaccino, the varsity is lead by Captain Jack Frakes, number one man. Other players in their order on the ladder are Ed Rousseau, Bob Brown, Sam Lindamood, Stan Greenberg, and Jack Waugh.

Frakes, Rousseau, and Brown are playing their last year for T.H.S. Greenberg and Waugh are juniors and Lindamood is a sophomore.

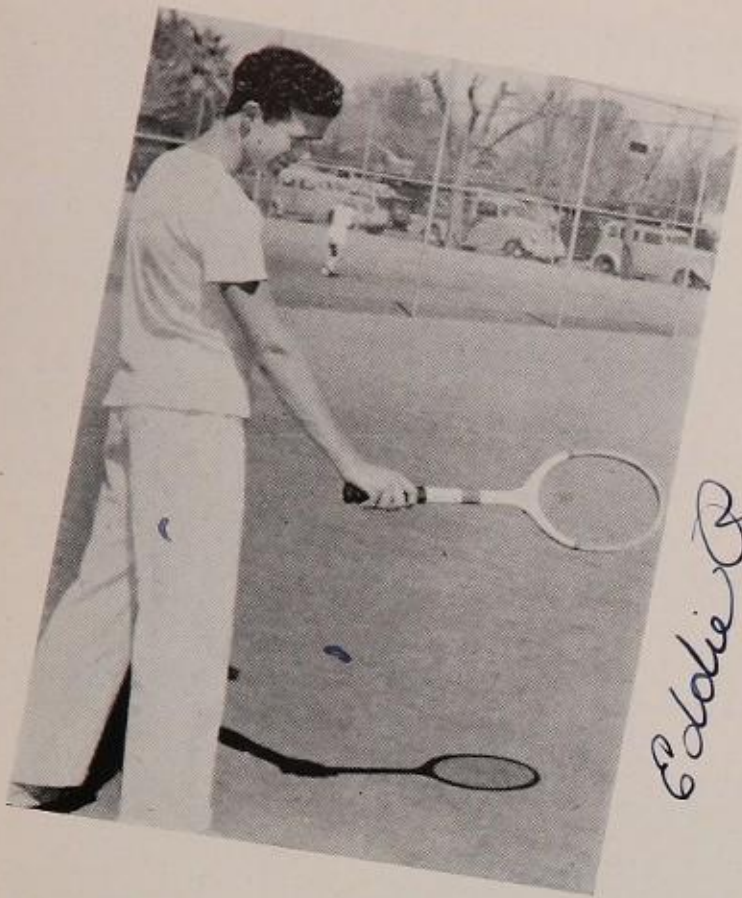

Tucson's first outing of the season resulted in a defeat by North Phoenix, four matches to three, but a return match in Phoenix, April 7, saw the Badger netters win, 5-2.

Hitting full stride, the Tucson net team then defeated Phoenix Union on the Coyotes' court, five to two. The Badgers made a clean sweep of the next meet here, taking all seven matches from Mesa.

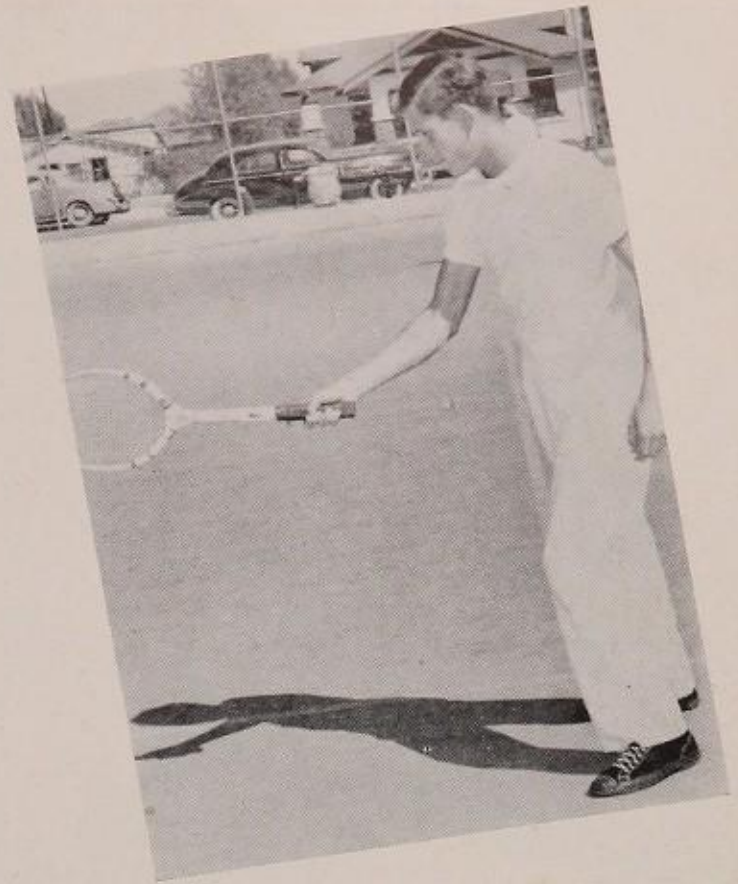

The Tucson netters gained their second victory over Phoenix Union, seven matches to none, on the local courts, and closed the regular season at Mesa with another clean sweep, as only one match went beyond two sets.

Tucson's doubles teams of Frakes and Brown and Rousseau and Lindamood have been the squad's mainstays, going through the season without a single defeat. The Badgers' hopes for another State championship rest on Frakes in the boys' singles and Rousseau and Lindamood in the doubles.

GIRLS' SPORTS

Girls' Sports

In the wide field of sports which Tucson High offers a student during a year's stay, the administration has made it possible for every girl to take part in basketball, softball, tennis, dancing, hockey, speedball, minor sports, and first aid. Participation in these activities is required in regular P.E. In doing so, girls are provided not only with an outlet for excess energy but also have the opportunity for developing physical fitness. Above all, the spirit of true sportsmanship, which is an important factor in normal, healthy life, is gained by the training in these sports.

Girls' "T" Club

The Girls' "T" Club is a service and social organization, headed by Irma Padres, president; Grace Lidikay, vice-president; and Shirley Shykofsky, secretary-treasurer. The club is sponsored by Miss Virginia Robinson.

Irma Padres and Shirley Shykofsky, who received major letters in tennis, are veterans along with Frances Jones, who was awarded her letter in G.A.A. activities.

GIRLS' "T" CLUB

G. S. L.

An important group affiliated with the P.E. Department is G.S.L.—GIRLS' SPORTS LEADERS. This group, headed by Miss Kathryn Young, is a purely service organization, which does the necessary job of assisting the P.E. teachers with running the gym. Each member serves in the department one period of the day, doing many odd jobs. They are known for their reliability and hard work and do much to contribute to an efficient department. Eloise Morton efficiently headed this group this year.

ADVANCED TENNIS CLASS

Girls' Tennis Team

"Game, set, match"—those were the words that were most often heard on the tennis court when the T.H.S. racquet wielders took their places. The interesting fact is that the words applied to the T.H.S. team and not to the opponents. Playing steady, and often brilliant tennis, the girls' tennis team under the excellent coaching and leadership of Miss Kathryn Young met and defeated teams from North Phoenix, Mesa, and Phoenix Union. Some of the players also acquired titles in the annual Southwestern and Arizona State tournaments.

Padres

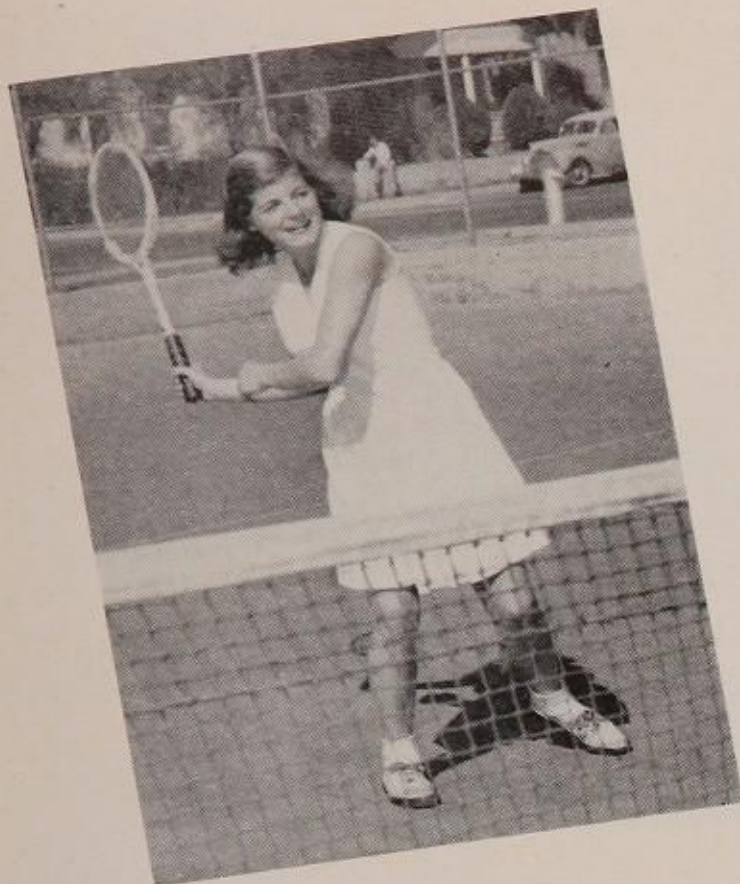

First on the ladder is Irma Padres, the steady, competent star of the team. Irma is the type of player who can and does take everything her opponent gives her and returns the shots with interest. Her game is remarkably steady and accurate, her serves rarely at fault, and to top it all off, she's just as "swell" a girl off the court as she is a good player on it.

Next we come to versatile and vivacious Ann Hutchinson, the number two player. Her game is a combination of steadiness and trick shots; she waits for the opportunities that present themselves and then takes them. There's never a dull moment on the court when Ann begins to play. Ann's sparkling personality makes the team's trips more than just travel, but enjoyable times.

The number three player is blonde, half-pint sized Shirley Shykofsky. She combines speed and surprising power for one so tiny, to topple her opponents. Her game is neither steady nor brilliant; rather it has spurts of both. She is an "on and off" player, but happily she is "on" more often than "off."

Hutchinson

Playing a viciously hard stroking game, and owning a sizzling serve, Mary Esther Lester sits on the fourth rung of the tennis ladder. Mary Esther practically overpowers her opponents with her hard but accurate placement shots.

The number five slot is capably held down by Stella Pacheco, who has come up rapidly in the last year. She is a very conscientious player as well as a fighter. Stella combines steadiness, speed, and accuracy to make her game a well-rounded one.

The only junior on this year's team is Jeanette Gridley, number six player. Her game is improving constantly, and she is developing a hard stroking game. Jeanette is sure to be one of the top players on the team next year, for she has the "stuff" that makes a good tennis player.

Advanced

For the third year Miss Virginia Robinson headed the advanced dancing class. This class meets every day during seventh period in the "mirror room" of the girls' P.E. department. Here the girls dance all kinds of dances, practice techniques, and make up their own dances.

In order to determine membership for this advanced class, tryouts are held at the end of the school year, and the best twenty girls are selected. The purpose of this class is to improve the girls' dancing and to give them a chance to try out their own ideas for dances All these girls must have had previous experience in dancing.

This year the dancing class gave a program to the public on March 28. Some very graceful dancing was displayed by this talented group. Also in April this class and other P.E. classes entertained the students in an assembly.

The following Seniors have been in the advanced dancing class for two years: Dorothy Arnold, Marjorie Foerster, Mary Kastner, Ann Marsh, Virginia Martin, and Emily Jane Vasey.

G. A. A.

The GIRLS' ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION, with its purpose "... to promote a higher mental and physical efficiency" and its creed of skill and sportsmanship, is the largest organization in Tucson High.

Sponsored again this year by Miss Kathryn Young, G.A.A. has offered for its two hundred members more sports and activities than ever before. At the top of the popularity list are bowling, volleyball, handball, archery, horseback riding, and tumbling.

Early this year the G.A.A. Executive Board, governed by President Frances Jones revised the G.A.A.'s constitution. Now the completed document is in convenient handbook form at the disposal of any active member.

An honor which formerly did not exist became a reality last year when the Student Council put their stamp of approval on the awarding of a G.A.A. major letter. Now the girls are working all-out to win those extra eleven points.

Many G.A.A. girls spend an average of three or four afternoons a week earning credits toward their letter. During the handball season (semester exam week) they were in the gym before school, after school, and at noon playing games for the tournament.

DRUM AND BUGLE CORPS

It is this enthusiasm and fair play, practiced on the courts, in the gym, and on the field, that is the impulse behind the success of the Girls' Athletic Association. And it is modesty in victory and courtesy in defeat that will forever be the by-word of G.A.A.

Active once again this year was the DRUM AND BUGLE CORPS under the supervision of Miss Kathryn Young and John Barringer. They gave outstanding performances at various parades, at football games, and also went to Mesa for the Thanksgiving football game. Mary Jo Shroll was Drum Majorette.

National Honor Society

Originally established to stimulate the scholarship, leadership, service, and character of students in the secondary schools of this country, the National Honor Society's three thousand and seventy chapters—of which Tucson High School's chapter sponsored by Miss Laura Gale is number seventy—have gradually broadened their scope to include much which will raise the plane of the secondary schools of the United States.

Two elections are held each year. The first semester's election is only of seniors, while in the second election outstanding juniors as well as seniors are chosen. The basis of the selection by nine faculty members is scholarship. Every student who is to be considered must be in the upper third of his class. After this obstacle has been surmounted stand leadership, service, and character.

Members elected to National Honor Society March 20, 1946:

El Cervantes

This year El Cervantes, sponsored by Miss Ida Celaya, of the Spanish Department, engaged in many activities, climaxed by the Spanish-American assembly. In charge were Lorena DeSanctis, president; Gippy Paredes, vice-president; Midge Foerster, secretary, and Mary Jackson, social chairman.

During the year several meetings were held for the purpose of entertaining and informing the members. Special speakers included Patsy O'Rielly and Daniel Armas, Guatemalan educator. The holiday season found El Cervantes members enjoying their yearly Christmas party, the highlight of which was the breaking of the "pinata."

The club held song-fests in which members learned the popular songs of Mexico and the other South American nations. Those who were interested were taught folk dances, and original skits were presented during club programs.

The accumulated result of all this activity was the Spanish-American Assembly in the middle of the year. It featured colorful songs and dances from "south of the border," and was popularly considered one of the best assemblies of the year.

For the first time, the club members were able to get gold pins this year. All in all, El Cervantes found '45-'46 one of its best and busiest years.

Pan-American Club

The Pan-American Club was organized six years ago for the purpose of aiding students to become better acquainted with Latin America. Under the sponsorship of Herb Burrows the club has had a very interesting year. Highlights of the first semester were the joint meetings with the Cervantes Club. At the first of these meetings, the speaker was Senor Daniel Armas of Guatemala, who was attending the University of Arizona. He spoke in Spanish, with Burrows translating.

Mrs. Ples Harper, a former teacher of Tucson who has lived in Lima, Peru, for the last five years, gave a talk at the other joint meeting. She spoke concerning the schools and customs of the Peruvians. A general discussion followed both talks.

One of the club's major activities, the publishing of the mimeographed news summary of Latin America, the Pan-American Echoes, was suspended for this year. However, it is hoped that with the return of James Black, who helped establish the paper before joining the armed forces, it will be possible to resume publication next year.

The year was climaxed with the celebration of the Dia de la Raza and Pan-American day by means of a party.

The club had a paid membership of forty-nine this year. The officers included Tommy Smith, president; Buck O'Rielly, vice-president; Betty Evans, secretary-treasurer.

The Latin Forum

The Latin Forum of Tucson High was conducted this year under the leadership of the two consuls, Philip Cranston and Peter Hansen, with the objective of imparting to the members some idea and appreciation of the contributions of the early Romans to civilization, and some understanding of the ancient traditions and practices of those people. Club members consist of students in the Latin classes in school, or those who have had the course. It was advised by Miss Alice G. Butts. In keeping with the political system of the Latins, the club elected their officers in two's for each position. They were, for this year, curules aediles, Pat Bunnell and Winston Gin; plebian aediles, Helen Avery and Elizabeth Holbrook; quaestores, Rosie Johnson and Lorraine Proctor; and tribunes, Kay Ellis and Brit Smith.

During the course of the year, the club observed various traditional holidays of the Romans. Last December, the Roman Saturnalia, a very festive ceremony somewhat resembling our Hallowe'en and Christmas, was celebrated.

As a crowning activity of the Latin Forum, a Roman banquet was conducted, at which the members ate food as much like the Roman menus as possible, in a Roman atmosphere and surroundings, dressed in costumes representative of those ancients. They were entertained in a fashion resembling the party entertainments of Rome long ago.

The French Club

La Lique Francaise has spent a very successful year. With Miss Florence Brazelton as adviser, Jack Vosskuhler as president, Sally Schminke as vice-president, and Betty Evans as secretary, it couldn't have been otherwise.

The purpose of the club was to promote interest in the French language and to aid the needy French people. Meetings were held every third Thursday of the month. Most of each meeting was carried on in French.

The initiation of new members held in November was secret, but the refreshments were spoken of, and only in complimentary tones. The majority of the initiates had studied or were studying French under the club's adviser. However, a few had studied it in other schools or not at all.

During the January meeting, Miss Brazelton translated a letter received from a family in the high Alps. This letter described the necessity of more food, clothing, and money. By March a package containing non-perishable food, money, and clothing was sent to help them out.

Several French movies were given during the school year, such as travelogues, the Paris Ballet, and History of the Violin, and French plays similar to "Mayerling."

All in all, the French Club managed to be both busy and entertaining.

Vive La Ligue Francaise!

Girls' Social Hour

"What activity ticket's good tonight?" How many times that one question is asked of members of the Social Hour Committee at the dances after the games.

Of course, selling tickets at the dances isn't the Girls' Social Hour Committee's only duty. They also have charge of the cloak room. Fortified with straight pins in one hand and check stubs in the other, the committee bravely waits for the doors to open. Then comes the stampede. Coats and jackets fly thick and fast, as the girls run back and forth desperately trying to arrange them in order. Special instructions go with practically every coat or sweater.

This year's president was Lorena DeSanctis, and vice-president was Earlene Boyd, with Betty Walker as secretary-treasurer. Other members include Shirley Arter, Sara Bartley, Peggy Boice, Carolyn Brady, Catherine Edwards, Mary Kay Ellington, Miriam Hamilton, Betty Howell, Helen McIntosh, Irma Padres, Josephine Starker, and Shirley Talmage.

The following girls are also on Miss Calanthe Brazelton's Dean's Committee and have given an hour's service each day at the school: Connie Fish, Pat Ingle, Mary Jo Lemas, June Mikell, Marilyn Myerson, and Milford Wilson. These girls deserve a great deal of credit as they have done an excellent job and have not received recognition other than the fact that the Dean's Office is one of the most smoothly run in the school.

Boys' Social Hour

These are the people who, together with the Girls' Social Hour Committee, are responsible for the success of the social functions of T. H. S. They take your money at the door of the cafeteria when there's a dance being held. They hand you a ticket and pass you into the inner sanctum. They take tickets at the door, and rotate half hour stints at the cloakroom during the social hours after the games. They organize committees for decorating the Senior prom, the Junior prom, the Chronicle dance, and other formal affairs. They have complete charge of the food and drink concession. This year, with our oversized student body, they have had a very difficult job, and deserve much credit for their efficiency and their original ideas. T. D. Romero was their sponsor, as usual. Lee Carey was president; Tom Fridena, vice-president, and John Newburn, secretary-treasurer.

Red Cross

High on the list of Tucson High's achievements is the excellent job the Junior Red Cross has done.

A co-ordinating committee of thirteen students working with Miss Calanthe Brazelton, adviser, planned the projects for the year and saw that they were successfully carried out. President of the Council was Brad Tolson, with Winston Gin as vice-president, Milford Wilson as secretary, and Mary Jo Lemas as treasurer. The other members were Prina Stanley, Ben Hill, Joe Starker, Jim Tolley, Ted Bushnell, Tom Burrows, Marilyn Myerson, Emily Jane Vasey, and Betty Morrow. Under this committee were the chairmen, who worked with their individual homerooms to carry out the projects.

More than $460.00 was collected to fill the Wartime Quota. The Hospital Recreation Quota was also filled. Games, writing portfolios, lap trays, canes, wash cloths, and ash trays were sent to the wounded veterans recuperating in hospitals all over the country. Locally, a bed was maintained in the Comstock Hospital for a crippled child. In order to fill these quotas, various methods were used.

On November 16, a vaudeville was given in the auditorium, followed by a dance in the cafeteria. The talent for the show was gathered from the homerooms.

The full length movies, The Count of Monte Cristo and Pot o' Gold, met with approval from the student body.

A radio program given from the stage in our auditorium and broadcast over KTUC, introduced to Tucson the members of the Junior Red Cross Council. Tom Burrows was emcee.

"30" Club

The "30" Club, one of the most useful T. H. S. organizations, elected this year O'Farrel Knight, president; Ralph Simons, vice-president; Stan Greenberg, secretary-treasurer. The members, easily recognized by their red badger sweaters, usher at the high school games, distribute publicity, and assume other responsibilities for the school. They appoint committees to assist the Knot Hole supervisors and serve, when needed, as messengers for game officials at the high school stadium. The organization, sponsored by F. M. Whiting, is primarily a service club. This year, with a large membership and under expert leadership, it played an important part in the life of the school, besides being an excellent way to bring boys together.

Dramatic Owls

Dramatic Owls

The footlights, the drama, the glow of the theater, all bring to mind that highly commendable group, the Dramatic Owls. The members you can easily recognize by their serious expression, their sleek appearance, and their vocal power which steadily increases as they climb the ladder from mere sophomores to the overpowering position of seniors.

The officers for this year were Jack Frakes, president; Douglas Fulton, vice-president; and secretary, Marilyn Myerson. They were guided by Miss Lillian Cavett in the first semester and by A. W. Little the second semester.

The annual play given by the Dramatic Owls was "Arsenic and Old Lace," directed by A. W. Johnson of radio station KVOA.

The game of producing a play is a tremendously complicated one, since the real cast of a play consists not only of the actors and actresses, but prop men, stage carpenters, scene shifters, artists, producers, directors, and others doing the things that make a play a success. Without them the show could not go on. Even the prompter is a valuable asset, as many a member well knows. Every detail of stagecraft must be well organized so that the play will go smoothly, and each member of the cast, whether on stage or off, is well trained in his particular role.

The Dramatic Owls gives to its members the opportunity to make public appearances and to gain valuable experience which will help them now as well as in later years.

The meetings are held once a month in Room 202, where each period's dramatic and public speaking classes present programs, doing all the work themselves.

As a result of Miss Cavett's outstanding work, Tucson High School's dramatic department has received an "A" rating among those of the high schools of the nation.

Thespians

To become a member of The National Thespians, honor organization of high school dramatics, is the major ambition of many a student. In order to achieve this high aim, one must accumulate ten points by appearing before audiences in plays and recitals sponsored by the speech department. Each point represents ten hours of dramatic work.

The Thespians of T. H. S. assisted in the production of "Spring Green," the all-school play, "Arsenic and Old Lace," sponsored by the Dramatic Owls, and the senior class play the past year. They served not only as actors, but also as members of the production staff.

During the war years the Tucson High School Chapter 425 contributed to the Servicemen's Library Fund, the Stage Door Canteen Fund, and presented various plays and programs at the Veterans' Hospital, St. Luke's in the Desert, and Davis-Monthan Field.

The officers elected for the fall term were president, Douglas Fulton; vice-president, Corrine Case; and secretary, Martha Ann Roberts.

Miss Lillian Cavett, who organized Chapter 425 in 1940 and who was its sponsor until she retired, left T. H. S. at the end of the first semester. Lloyd Roberts, returned veteran who has taken over Miss Cavett's dramatic work, is the new sponsor.

Lettermen's Club

The boys' "T" club, under the capable sponsorship of Coach Rollin Gridley, rounded out a full year with Johnny Newburn as president, Bob Boice as vice-president, and Jim Bartlett, secretary-treasurer. The members of this club are the lettermen sporting the bright red sweaters with the big T and the stripes. These boys earned their membership by hard work on the field, court, or track. They are the boys who bring home the championships and trophies. Our football, basketball, baseball, and track teams are of championship material, and each member of each of these teams fully deserves the letterman's stripes that he has played so well to get.

The Lettermen's Club is one of the oldest and best in T. H. S. Coach Gridley has been sponsor for the last eleven years, and has seen the club become a really worthwhile organization, one to which nearly every boy in T. H. S. wants to belong.

This year the boys on the "Badgers," held a successful dance and had an hilarious initiation on the football field. The initiates, dressed in old levis, were congregated in the field practically knee deep in mud, and the initiation ended in a glorious mud fight. Real Badger (never say die) spirit was shown throughout the ceremony.

The boys in the "T" Club are, besides being outstanding athletes, a really fine group of fellows.

Senior Hi-Y, Chapter I

With all-around Lee Carey in the driver's seat as president, the original chapter of the Senior Hi-Y completed one of the most successful years ever known to a Hi-Y organization. Helping Carey in the management of the club were Frank Borman, vice-president; Gail Rogers, occupying the secretary's chair; Bob Cooney, handling the financial affairs; and Jim Bartlett, program chairman. The adviser was Ralph Futrell, to whom, the boys say, a great deal of credit is due.

Mixed with the numerous picnics and dances of the club was a great deal of serious work, such as gathering food, clothing, and money for the poor; collecting over $100.00 for the United Appeal; and a donation of $87.00 to the Y. M. C. A. building fund.

The Hi-Y'ers went back to the good old days of gaslight and straw hats for the theme of their annual dance held on March 23, "The Gay Nineties Revue." Bedecked with spittoons, lanterns, and a number of colorful silhouettes, the cafeteria looked like a page from an 1890 book. Coupled with the grand atmosphere of gaiety, the mellow notes issuing forth from Johnny Barringer's Swing Band made it a perfect night for every one attending.

Congratulations to the Hi-Y of '46 for setting a shining example to future organizations!

Progressive Senior Hi-Y

Established in the latter part of the first semester as an outgrowth of the old Hi-Y, the Progressive Hi-Y gradually developed into one of the leading organizations in T. H. S. with an active enrollment of twenty-six members.

With Bob Murray capably presiding, a large number of very worthy and constructive projects as well as a great deal of fun sprang out of the weekly Tuesday-night meetings at the high school. Included among these were the soliciting of over $100 worth of funds for the Community War Chest and a large donation to the Y. M. C. A. Building Fund.

The other offices were ably filled by Bob Herman, vice-president; Norman Gaisford, secretary-treasurer; and Jack Armstrong, program chairman. The fellows really had a grand adviser in Jack Mantle, who went all out for everyone in the club.

Jointly sponsored with the original chapter was the long-to-be-remembered Senior Hi-Y dance of March 16, "The Gay Nineties Revue." Decorated with objects and scenes from the '90's, the dance featured community singing, cake raffles, and a barbershop quartette. Then, too, there was the riotous Hi-Y assembly held on March 27 centered around a courtroom scene also presented with the "originals."

Esquire Junior Hi-Y

With a small membership at the start of the year, the Esquires grew gradually to a healthy thirty-three by the end of school. The gavel-pounding duties went to Chet Vasey, who led the club to a very good year. Vice-prexy was Grant Howard; the pen-wielding duties were handled by Bucky O'Rielly; Roman DeSanctis was treasurer. Publicity was Don Pitt's responsibility, and the man to whom a great deal of credit goes for working so patiently with the boys was J. D. Van Horne, adviser.

The Esquires started off the year with an ideal picnic-dance followed by a number of get-togethers. As a project, the Hi-Y sponsored between-the-halves entertainment at a number of basketball games, featuring a "Wrestling Match" and a rough and tumble game of commando basketball.

Highlight of the year for the juniors was the "Cowpuncher's Ball" held on April 6. With the cafeteria arrayed in the typical atmosphere of the Old West, the dancers whirled through the Virginia reel and other old folk dances to the tune of "Turkey in the Straw."

The Hi-Y also played their part in sports circles with a team entered in the City Recreation Basketball and Softball Leagues.

Sahuaro Junior Hi-Y

Boasting a total of thirty members, the Sahuaro Chapter of the Junior Hi-Y, the infant in Hi-Y circles, came into being in the middle of the first semester because of the increased number of fellows who wanted to join the Hi-Y clubs.

Immediately the Sahuaros got down to business by choosing Jack Waugh to lead them to a successful year as president; Bill Wright was vice-president; Thomas Arana played a double role as secretary-treasurer; and Roy Hansen was program chairman.

The second semester elections put the gavel into the hands of Ted Fellowes; Buzzy Wilson in the vice-president's chair; Paul Chin in the Secretary-treasurership; and Roy Hansen again as program chairman. Adviser for the club was John McCuskey. The Sahuaro chapter sponsored a number of parties and dances during the year, and the great pre-affle at "The Cowpuncher's Ball" on April 6 was their responsibility.

At the meetings held once a week on Monday night, the boys listened to a great many educational speeches, watched movies, and had a great deal of fun carrying on business.

Tuc-Hi

Eighty-five representatives of the fairer sex as registered in Tucson High took an active part this year in the Y. W. C. A. club. Mrs. Willis Waldrup served as adviser, with Lorena DeSanctis leading the girls, Mary Alice Scanlan assisting Lorena, Betty Walker recording the minutes, and Josephine (alias "Doll") Starker collecting the dues.

The programs of club meetings were planned around the monthly themes, which were as follows: Getting Acquainted, World Fellowship, Sharing Christmas, Personal Relations, and Personality, Etiquette, and Planning the Future. Each month the girls heard talks and held discussions on the current theme.

In October Tuc-Hi girls helped put over the United Appeal Drive. The next month was a busy one with a Girl Reserve tea, an Around-the-World party, a float in the Armistice Day Parade, and an informal dance. Tuc-Hi girls made Christmas a little cheerier for others by planning a party for Comstock Hospital, making popcorn balls for the U. S. O., making tray favors for the Tucson Medical Center, and organizing the Tuc-Hi carolers, who sang over KTUC and at Davis-Monthan Hospital. The Paper Moon Dance, Tuc-Hi's formal at La Hacienda, was the outstanding event for January.

In order to help raise funds for this year's summer camp, Tuc-Hi girls took charge of seven concessions at the Irish Fair on March 16. Three important activities highlighted the month of April—the spring formal and the hayride (with members of the stronger sex invited) and the Girl Reserve Conference. On April 5, 6, and 7 Tucson's Girl Reserves played hostess to girls from all parts of Arizona and from out of state. Tuc-Hi's contribution to the varied program was a smooth style show, presented after the Saturday night banquet.

Phyllis Wheatley Girl Reserves Club

Phyllis Wheatley Girl Reserves Club was named in honor of Phyllis Wheatley, an African-born slave girl who learned the English language and read the Bible within sixteen months after her arrival in America. She became a poet of such note as to attract the attention of General George Washington, who wrote a letter commending her poetic talents and invited her to call to see him when near his headquarters.

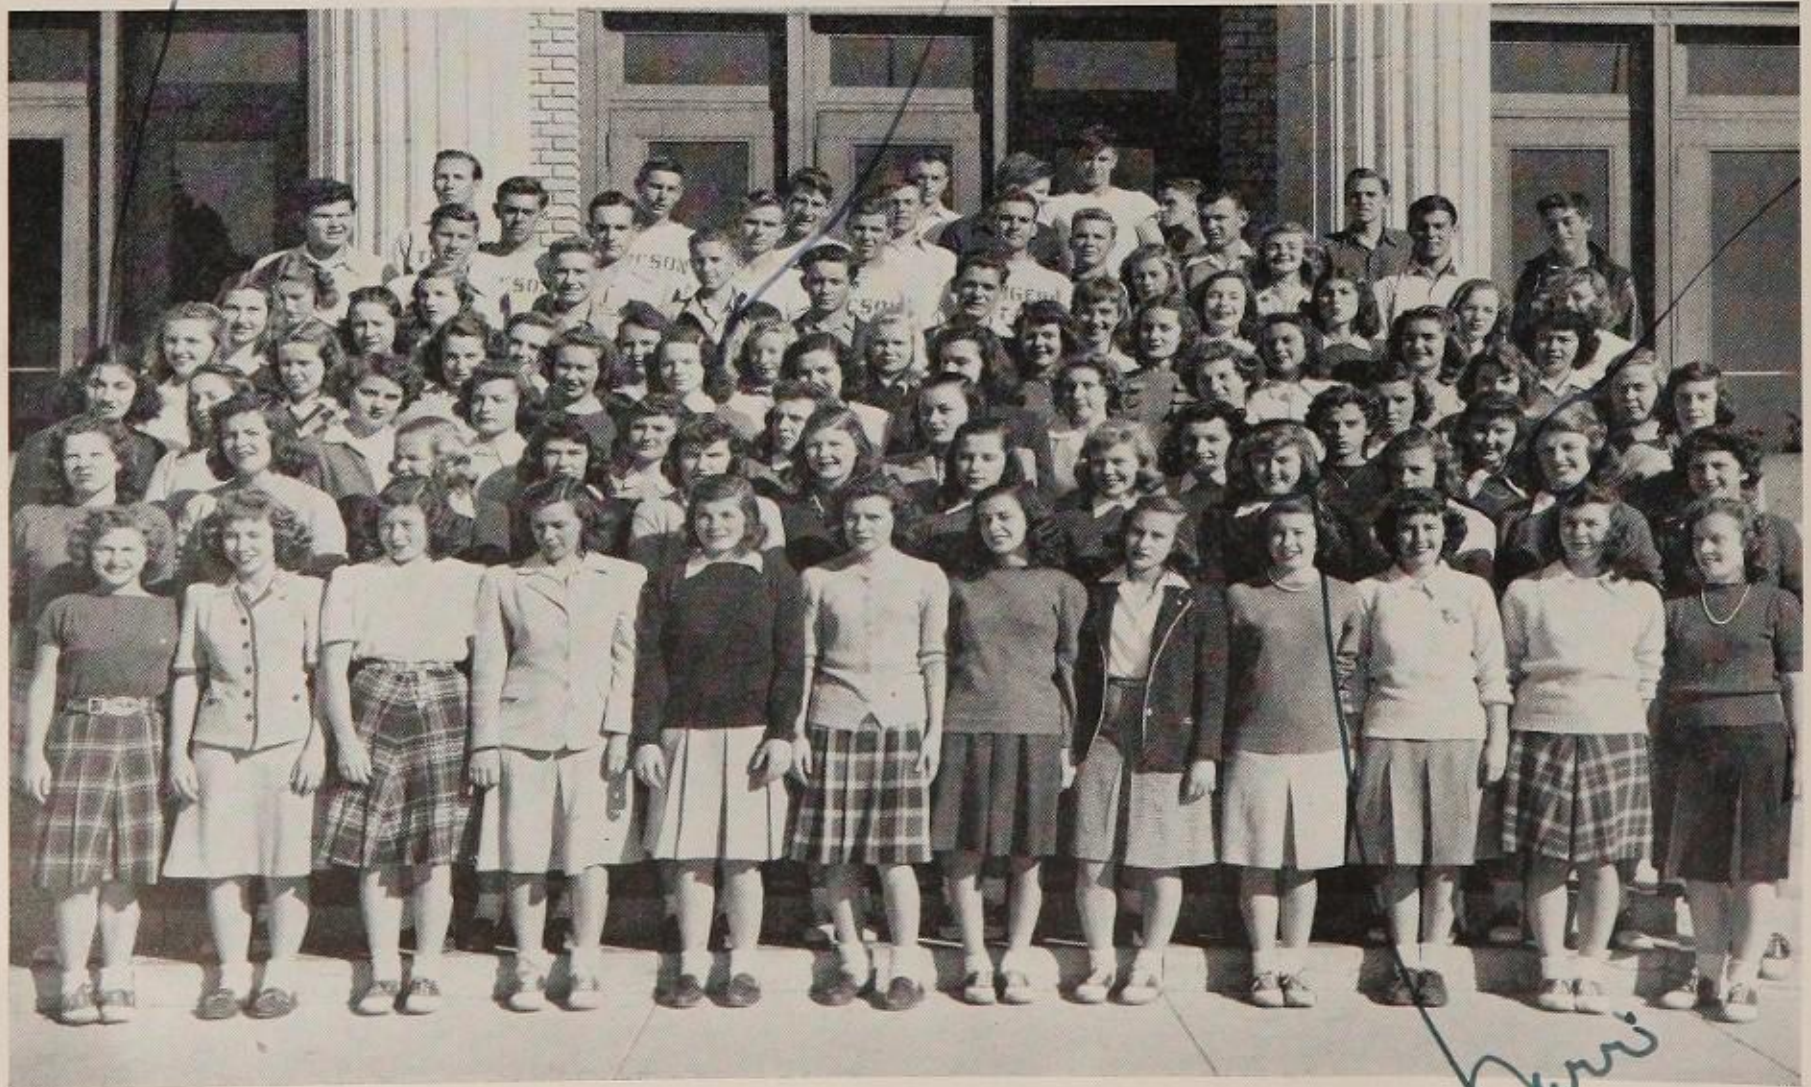

First semester's officers of Tucson's Phyllis Wheatley chapter were Annie Mae Turner, president; Eugenia Washington, vice-president; Elizabeth Boothe, secretary, and Bobbie Hall, treasurer.

During the year a lecture was given by Mrs. Mitchell, who told of her work in National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. Various parties were given to raise money for the annual spring formal. Sunday, March 24, the Girl Reserves sponsored a vesper service at the Twelfth Avenue U. S. O. Activities for the second semester included bicycling to "A" Mountain; hearing a veteran of World War Two speak to them on his experiences overseas; and listening to a talk on beauty culture given by a beautician. A spring formal was given the latter part of April.

Officers for the second semester are Melva Jean Thompson, president; Helen Armstrong, vice-president; Imogene Brown, secretary; and Bobbie Hall, treasurer.

Cheer Leaders

Five of the peppiest people in Tucson High School are the cheer leaders. You see them at all the basketball and football games cheering the Badger team on by leading their many yells with the help of the Pep Squad. Sweater-clad, they dash around waving their red and white megaphones, exchanging yells with opposing teams, and encouraging more school spirit from the Badger fans. This snappy group keeps up the morale of the home team high by leading pep assemblies and downtown rallies.

Led by Mary Kastner as president, and supervised by T. D. Romero, the cheer leaders were Jack Armstrong, Elaine Furman, Jim Baum, and Eunice Zeller.

Pep Squad

To be a member of the Pep Squad you must have lots of school spirit, a thunderous voice, and a barrel of pep. And, being led by five snappy cheer leaders, you'll be sure to win a place among the horde of two hundred ardent fans of Tucson Badgers sitting somewhere near the fifty-yard line under the little Pep Squad sign. Of course, to get there at all you must produce a small white card with a badger on it and then battle your way up into the stands to a seat from which you can't even see.

Shouting the loudest at the basketball and football games are the cheer leaders patiently repeating "Enie-menie-hi-ki" and "Um-pa-pa" to the frantic members, who are on the edges of their seats, craning their necks to see if the Badgers have made a touchdown.

One of the highlights of the season for the Pep Squad was a football rally held just before the thrilling Mesa game. Winding in and out the Tucson stores, the snake-like column of Badger-backers caused many amused glances from the spectators, who lined the streets.

The leaders of the Pep Squad were Jim Bartlett, president of the club, Ann Hutchinson, and Jim Tolley.

Radio Club

Reinstated as an activity in Tucson Senior High School after three years, the Radio Club is presided over by Dick Kaller, who was elected president at the beginning of the year.

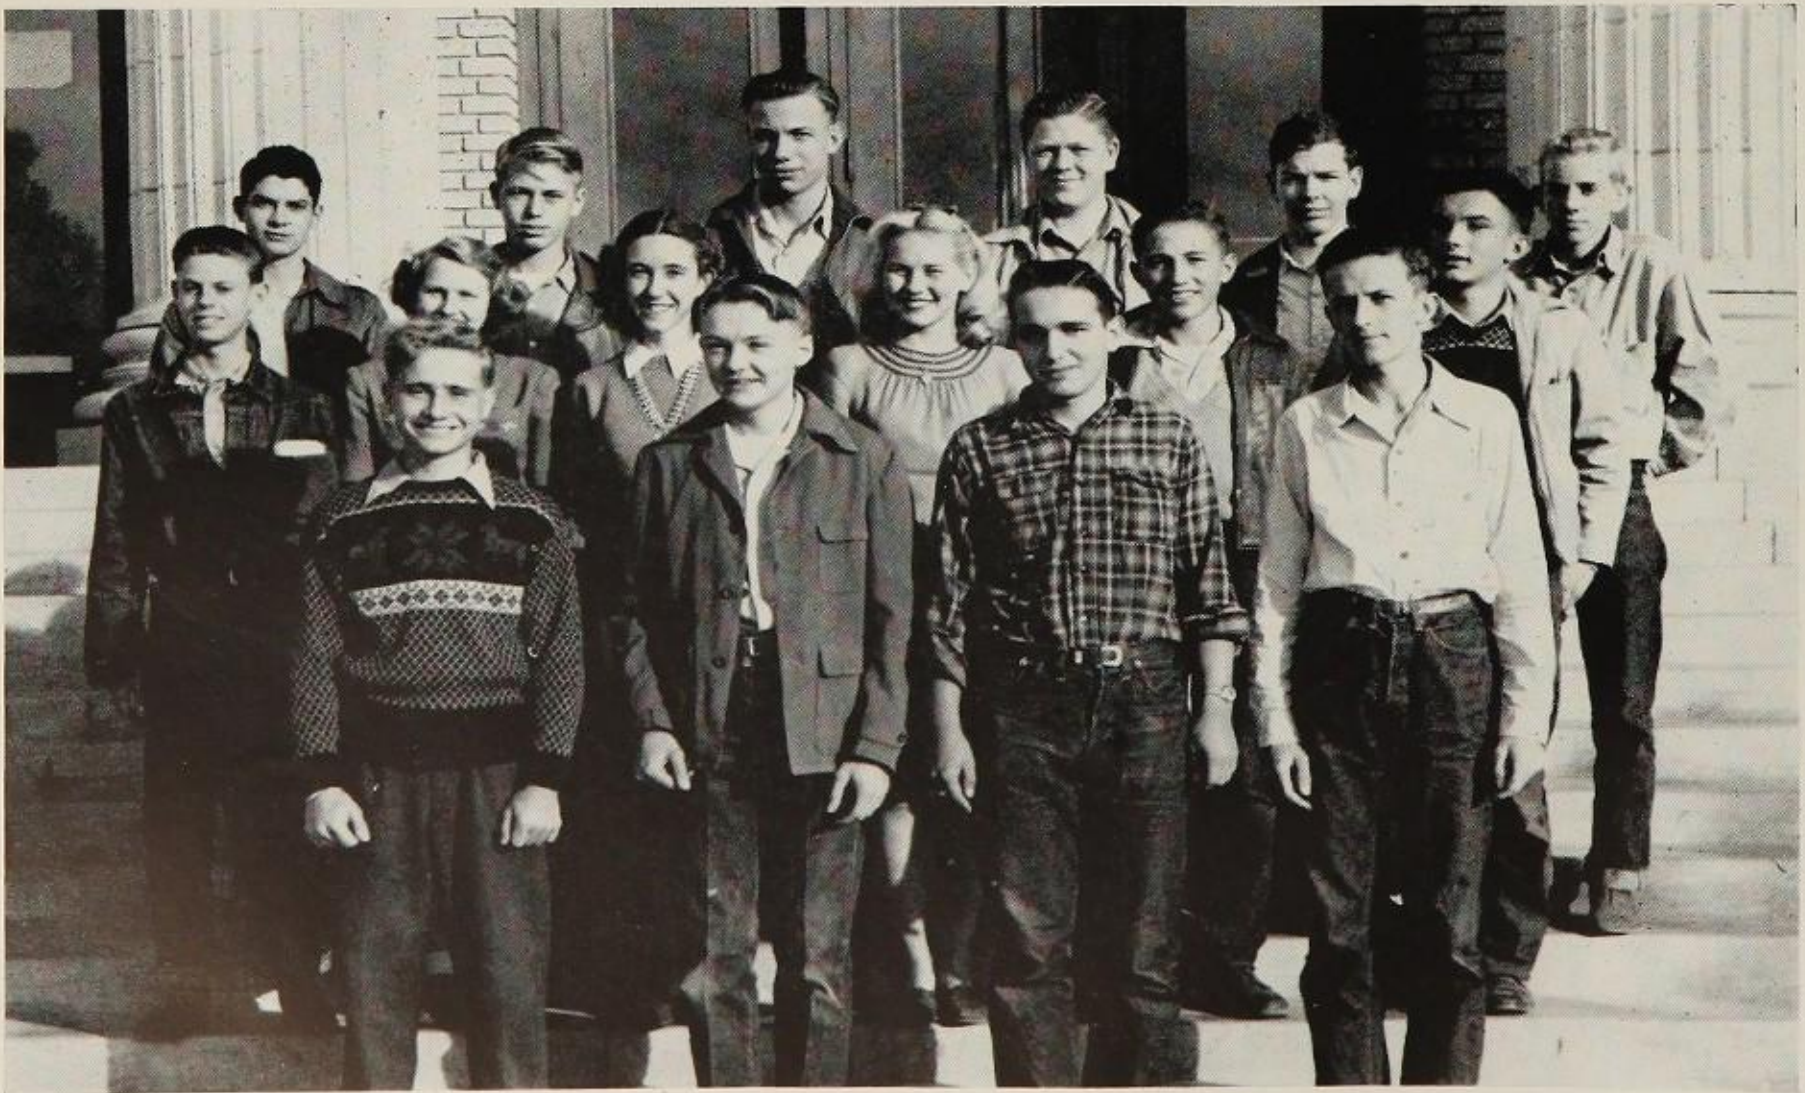

The purpose of the club is to stimulate interest in radio activities, construction, maintenance, and code, according to Philip Buehman, adviser of the group.

Each Monday afternoon, the twenty students who compose the club meet and discuss interesting facts and phases of radio. During these sessions, as well as at other times, they work in their lab.

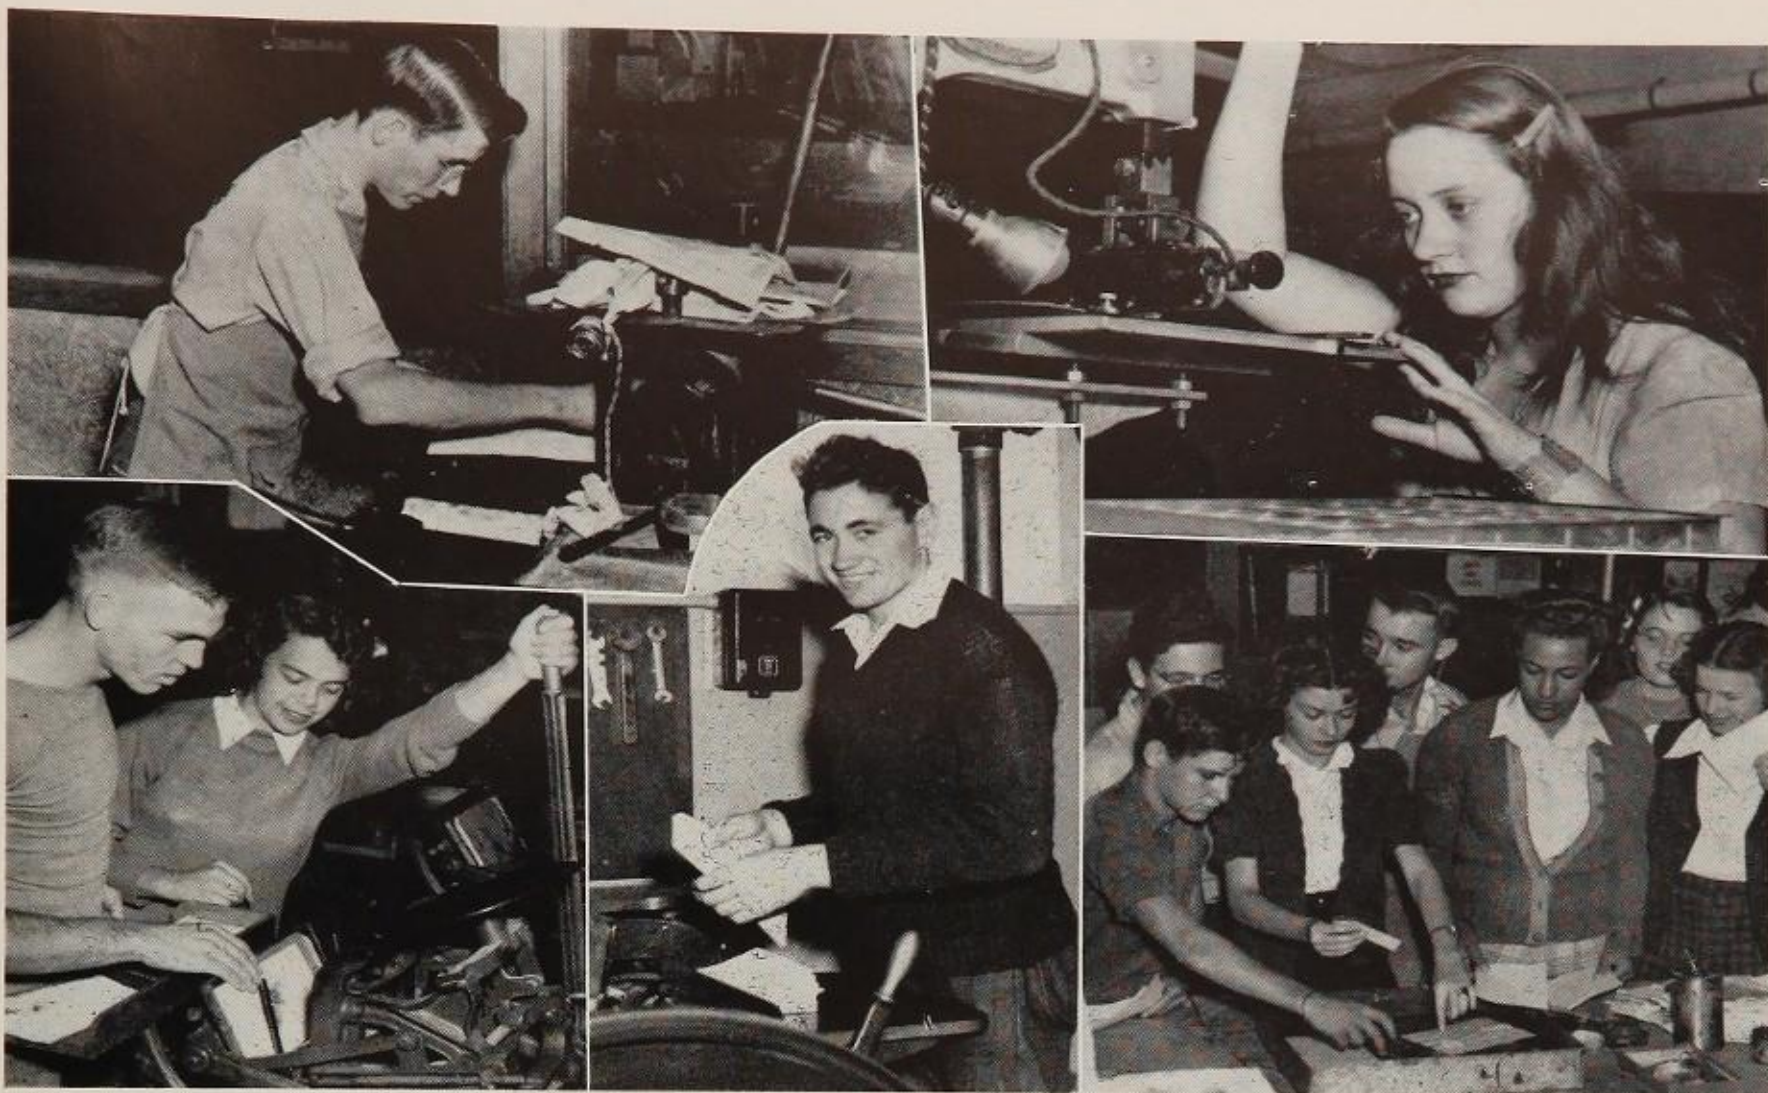

The laboratory is on the third floor, in the room to the left as one enters the old school gymnasium. In this room these students have gathered many tools with which to work—almost any tool necessary for amateur radio work. Also there are various test apparati for testing tubes, radio circuits, and voltages.

Girls in the club are mostly interested in Radio code, while the boys tend towards experimenting with different phases of radio, and also towards the construction of sets such as transceivers, which are used as a broadcast station and a receiving radio combined.

There are but two requirements for membership in the Radio Club: that the person be a student of T. H. S. and that he or she be interested in any technical phase of radio.

Graphic Arts

Over in the Northwest end of the annex basement there is a place where students go to make a lot of noise, and get printer's ink on their clothes and under their fingernails, and incidentally, study one of the most popular and worthwhile laboratory courses in T. H. S., Graphic Arts. Since its beginning in September of 1940 this department has provided a well-planned course in a number of the methods of reproducing thought in visual form, such as printing, etching, embossing, bookbinding, and photography.

Down in the shop . . . listen to the throbbing beat of the power presses as they turn out jobs planned and executed by students, the printing of the Quarterly, grade slips, report cards, excuses, and individual projects such as calling cards, letter heads, Christmas cards, and other personalized objects . . . then listen just a little harder and you'll hear the voices of Otis Chidister or Harry Goldstein vocally rapping knuckles for the careless word, lack of cooperation, or plain old-fashioned goldbricking. These are the men who keep the presses rolling and the cameras clicking.

Even those who take only one year of the work are supplied with a basic fund of working knowledge in the field of Graphic Arts that can be of benefit to anyone contemplating a career in journalism, commercial art, or photography.

Stamp Club

The T. H. S. Stamp Club, which had been disbanded during the war, was re-organized in the fall of 1945 with twenty-four members. It has met every Tuesday throughout the year.

The purpose of the club is to introduce to students the romance, art, history, and geography found in the study of the common postage stamp, and to further the spirit of friendship among students with a common interest.

The climax of the year's work was the exhibit held in April, in which most of the members and some non-members participated.

Officers for the year were Bill Weaver, president; Shirley Altman, vice-president; Dorothy Polk, secretary; and Dan Driggers, sergeant at arms. For the second semester officers were Bill Weaver, president; Albert Gwinn, vice-president; Paul Orth, secretary; and Dan Driggers, sergeant at arms.

Lyres Club

Though supposedly it is not a secret organization, few people know much about the Lyres Club. Composed of Seniors, who have been members of the band for two years, and who have survived a strenuous initiation, the Lyres Club's main function is to serve as a disciplinarian part of the band, aiding "Prof" Sewell in dealing punishment to offending members. Seeing that Sophomore members of the band attend to such menial tasks as polishing brass instruments before school is a duty and a pleasure.

The Lyres Club has its own set of rules. Green socks in the band room mean almost certain disaster for the wearer. Also forbidden in the band room are suspenders. Violators of these two "Golden Rules" take their safety in their own hands.

This year officers of the Lyres Club included Tommy Burrows, president; Tommy Martin, vice-president; and George Snell, secretary.

Art Honor Society

The local chapter of the National Art Honor Society is the Pen and Brush Club, which takes its name from a well-known association of New York artists. Its purpose is to give recognition to the outstanding art students of the year. To qualify, a student must have a good citizenship record, an average of at least 2 in art, an average of 3 in other subjects, and 10 projects to be completed in the school year.

The members who completed these qualifications are Fay Templeton, Geraldine Heltman, Evangelina Torres, Ann Williams, Judy Friedman, Evelyn Tyler, Audrey

Assembly Committee

The Assembly Committee gave us everything from Johnny Barringer's Swing Band to the more sedate Christmas and Easter programs. In between, the teachers managed to bask in the limelight with their "talent" assembly, one of the most popular events of the year. It's generally conceded that some of our faculty are wasting their time teaching school, and should be emoting on the silver screen.

The long-awaited Senior Assembly at the end of the year is still fresh in our memories with its hilarious antics in sharp contrast to its sadness when the school song was played. The Juniors skipped down the middle of the road and provided a cheerful enough time in their annual free-for-all. Even the Sophomores tried—enough said.

One of the most memorable assemblies was that one in which Howard Pyle was introduced to the student body. Pyle, well known in Arizona as a foreign war correspondent and radio commentator, spoke on "Citizens of the World." Combined with some of his experiences in this war were some amusing incidents which he related in a most enjoyable manner.

Another of the assemblies that will go down in T. H. S. history is the one in which our Badgers were interviewed as the State Champions in football.

Responsible for these programs were Jim Bartlett, Helen McIntosh, Stella Pacheco, Bob Bailey, Grant Howard, and Douglas Fulton. Paul Koch was adviser.

Quarterly

For the second consecutive year the Quarterly was rated tops by the Columbia Scholastic Press Association.

Final staffs were chosen by Mary Kay Ellington, editor-in-chief, Miss Harriette Martin, literary adviser, Otis Chidester, make-up director, and members of the editorial board Peggy Boice, Lorena DeSanctis, Winston Gin, Bob Hartman, Mary Holderness, Marilyn Myerson, Craig Smith, and Milford Wilson.

The Quarterly proved it was "in step with the times," when World Relations was chosen as the theme for the first issue. A deadline of two-and-a-half weeks was set for all written assignments. Typists began work on the stories as soon as students brought them in. From Miss Martin's desk the corrected copy went to the Graphic Arts Department, where the galleys were made, proof-read by the editor or members of the editorial board, and reset in their corrected forms. Then the galleys were cut down to fit specifications and pasted in the dummy, a general plan of the magazine. Only after the completion of the dummy and all drawings and cuts were in did the Quarterly begin rolling off the presses.

The popularity of the Quarterly among students and alumni in the Armed Forces can perhaps be attributed to the variety of subjects contained in each issue. Regular features include poetry, class stories, pictures of student life, fiction articles, personalities, sports reviews, and letters from former students now in service. The themes for the other issues of the Quarterly, equally as interesting as the first, were Student Issue, Arizona, and Graduation.

Cactus

Under the leadership of Bill Okeson, editor, the Cactus Chronicle upheld its former standing, and for the first time in six years, the official school publication was awarded an All-American rating by the National Scholastic Press Association. Out of a possible 1105 points, the Chronicle was good enough in the eyes of the judges to merit a 1020 total.

The two managing editors who upheld their end of the job magnificently were Phil Coleman and Mary Holderness, and the staff editor was Bill Vietinghoff.

Miriam Hamilton handled the circulation tasks, while Cynthia Perry was chief of the exchange distributors. Head typists were Doris Berger and Carol Stephey.

The hard working editorial board, to which much credit is due for the fine personality columns and many other features, consisted of Jana Reusser, Emily Jane Vasey, Connie Fish, Midge Foerster, and Winston Gin.

Publication Advisers

Advising the Cactus Chronicle in a literary capacity this year were Miss Harriette Martin and Miss Marjorie Stevenson. Miss Martin divided her time to act as literary adviser for the Quarterly as did Miss Stevenson for the Tucsonian. Mr. Harry Goldstein was photography adviser, and Mr. Otis Chidester lent his time as printing adviser for the Quarterly. Business manager for all the publications was Mr. Joseph Magee.

To Doris Lakritz, head photographer for the Tucsonian, goes special credit for a job well done.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

Band

After winning the grand sweepstakes award in Tucson's annual La Fiesta De Los Vaqueros Parade, with their marching version of the var-sovieana, the Tucson High School Band, under the direction of W. Arthur "Prof" Sewell turned its attention to the remaining activities on its musical calendar. "One of the biggest dates ahead," states "Prof" Sewell, "is the band concert on April 5, during the annual Tucson Music Festival. Each year, during the week of April 5-12, all students in the Tucson Public Schools, various bands, orchestras, and organ classes give a concert in the Tucson High School auditorium which is open to the music loving public of Tucson. Also scheduled for late in the year is concert to be held on some Sunday afternoon in Armory Park.

As has been the tradition for many years, all graduating seniors in the band have an opportunity to play, at the commencement exercises, a solo which they have selected. George Snell, Max Klinger, Horace Bounds, Tommy Burrows, Hal Richerson, Laurie Houck, Bill McCormick, Leroy Arnold, Joe Mendoza, and Bob Thompson are at present busily engaged in preparing their solos.

At the mid-term the band lost its president, Tom Martin. Hal Richerson has been elected to replace him. Other officers of the band include: George Snell, personnel manager; Bill McCormick, librarian; Leroy Arnold, Secretary; Bob Thompson and Tommy Burrows, drum major.

Orchestra

The orchestra played its usual prominent part in the affairs of Tucson Senior High School this year. Composed of forty members, about the same number as last year's orchestra had, it was a well-balanced orchestra, containing no outstandingly good or poor players, but a nicely proportioned group, whose members get along well together, according to "Prof" Sewell.

Among the orchestra's numerous activities this year were its appearance at assemblies and school plays, and its annual concert. Selections played at this year's concert were Southern Rhapsody by Hosmer, Symphony Number 13 by Haydn, and a piano concerto in D Minor by Mozart with Venice Lindsay as soloist.

Sewell organized the orchestra in 1909 and has been directing it ever since. The orchestra has enjoyed permanent popularity under "Prof's" expert guidance.

Vocal Music

"Teacher's Pets" numbered around one hundred this year, a post-war high for the vocal classes. There was even a full class of boys—some twenty odd, as compared to last year's five!

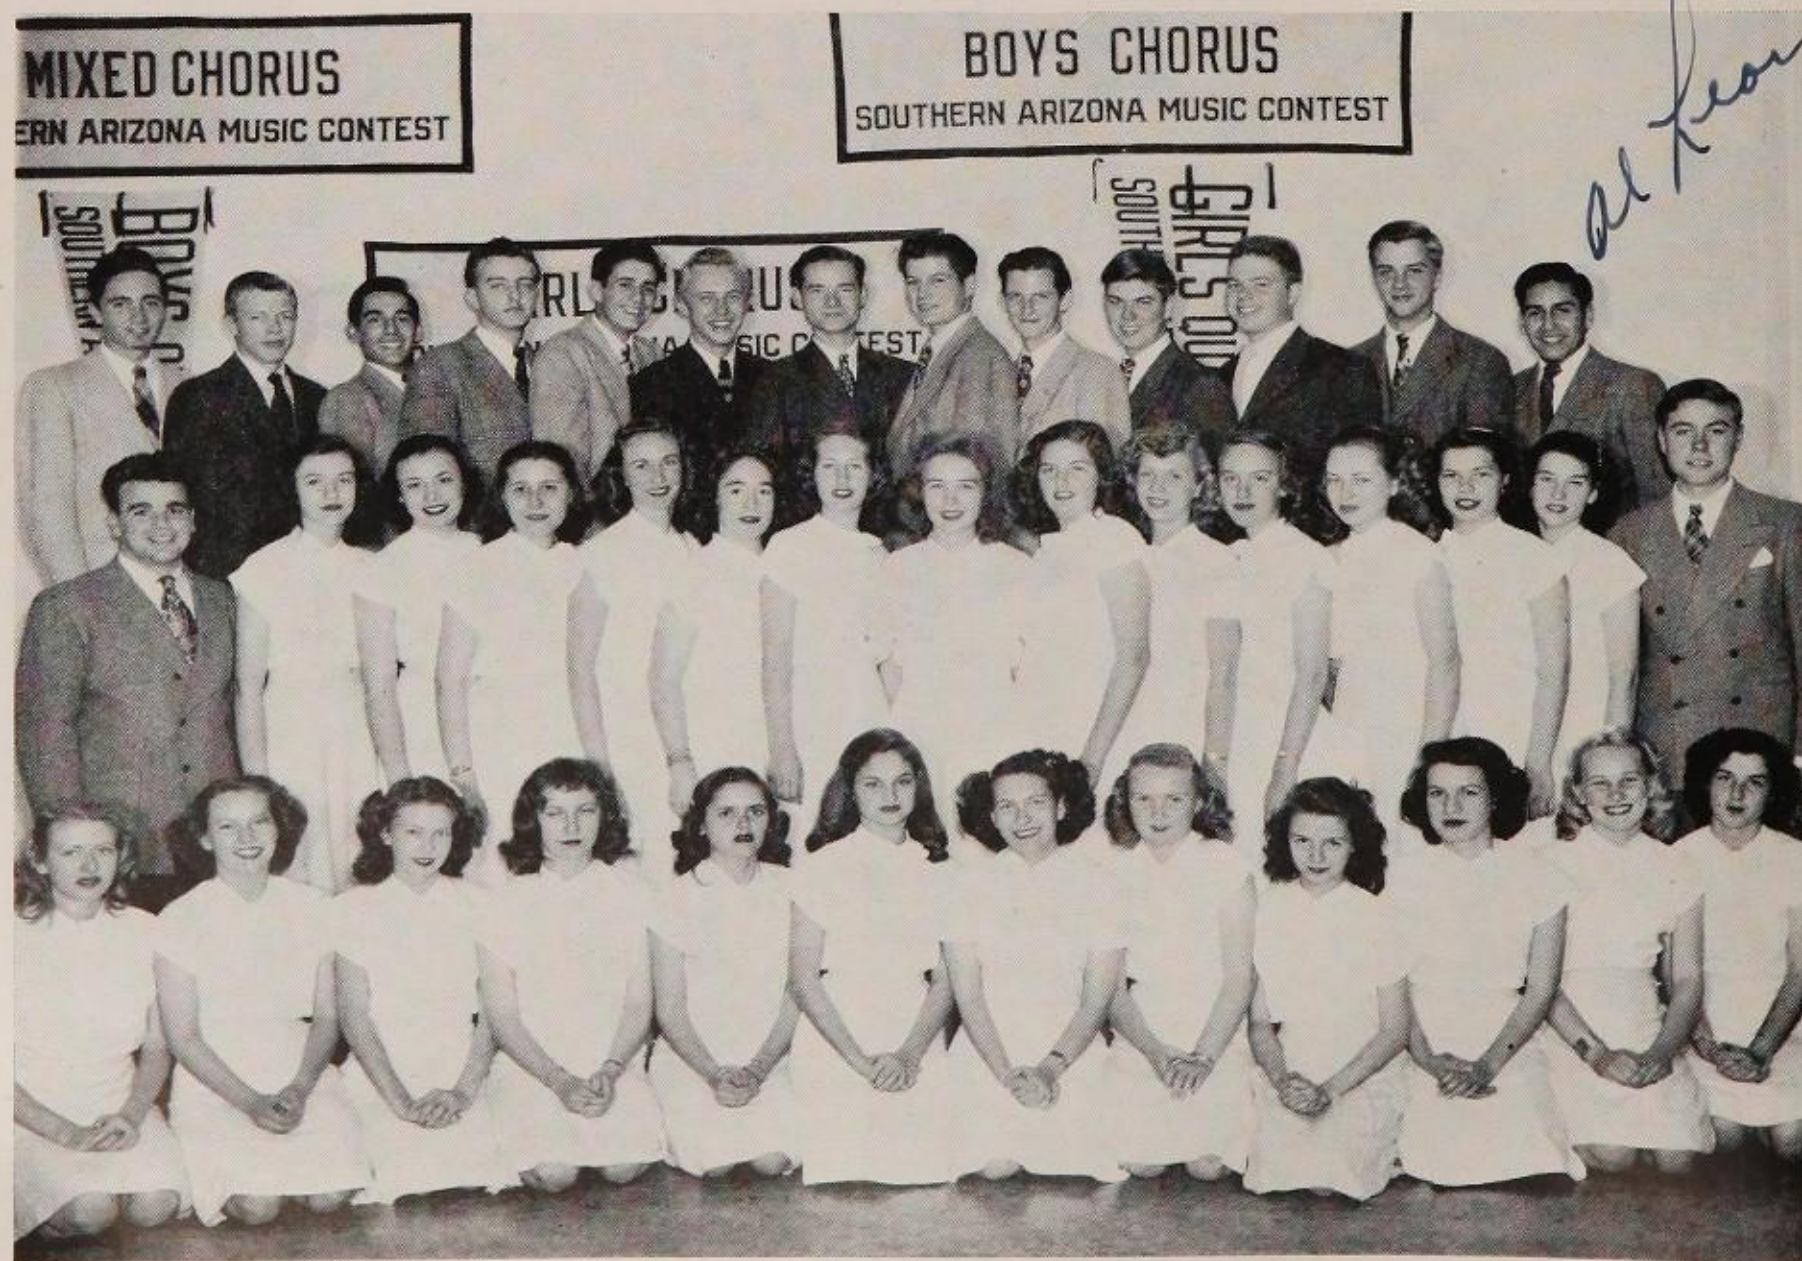

Miss Madge Utterback, known as "Teacher" to her choruses, divides her students into three classes: the girls, the boys, and the "little girls." In addition to these, she has the quartettes, girls' and boys' made up of her best voices.

These classes have been arranged, for program convenience, into groups, or clubs. The number of them, and their variety of name, has confused many innocent bystanders hopelessly. It's very easy to understand the arrangement, if you've spent three years trying to figure it out.

First comes the chorus, which is simply the chorus, and has no other name. It contains all three classes. Then the Allegro Club (the advanced girls' class), the Allegretto Club (the beginning girls' class), and the Arion Club (a euphemistic name for the boys' class). The Allegro Club and the Arion Club together make up the well known Badger Balladeers.

The vocal department is one of the most active at T.H.S. The full chorus has sung for assemblies and other programs. The Balladeers sing rather more often, as they are fewer and easier to move about. Even more frequently scheduled for programs are the quartettes, the desired goal of every new member of the vocal classes.

BADGER BALLADEERS

BOYS' QUARTETTE

GIRLS' QUARTETTE

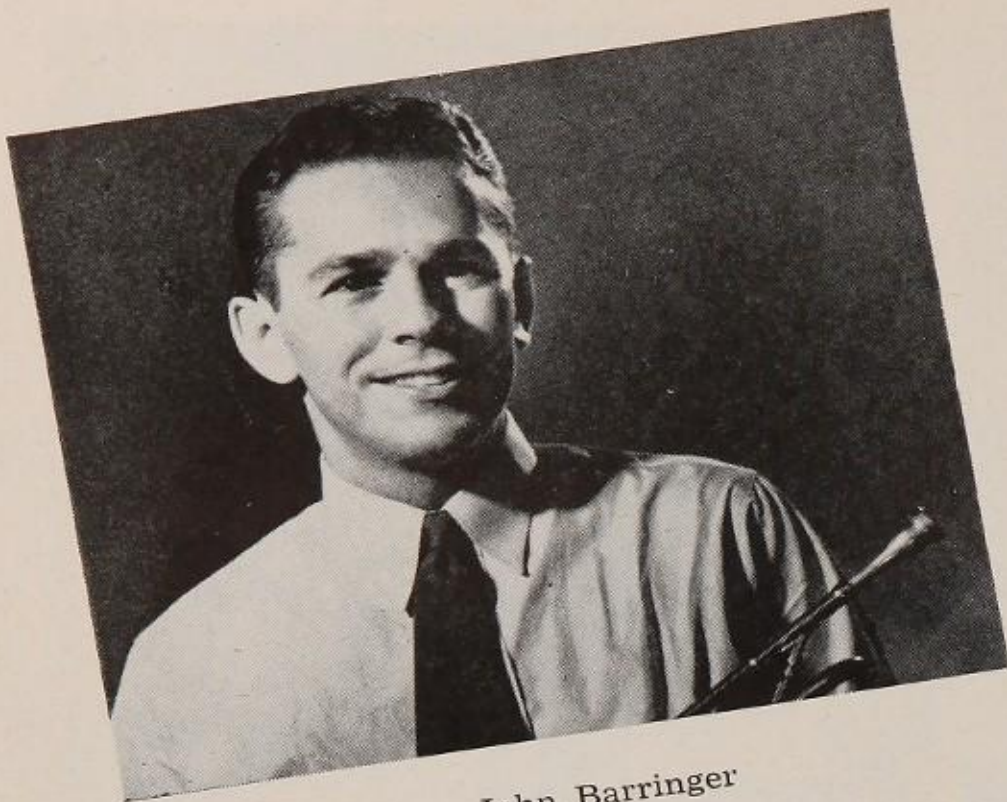

The quartettes this year consisted of Earlene Boyd, first soprano, Harriette Brown, second soprano, Jerry Pafford, first alto; and Mary Schuh and Elsie Martin, second altos. The boys were Richard Shaar, first tenor; Nathan Plumb, second tenor; Alfred Leon, first bass; and Duane Youngers, second bass.

The accompanists were Beth Du Bois, Quartettes; Shirley Romo and Earlene Boyd, Allegro Club and Balladeers; David Faris and Bob Flood, Arion Club; and Louise Talmadge and Lois Melrose, Allegretto Club.

Swing Band

Completing another year of furnishing fine music for assemblies, Red Cross Shows, and school dances, the members of the Tucson High School Swing Band may look upon a work well done. The band was again under the superb direction of P. E. coach Johnny Barringer. This year's Student Director was pianist Tommy Burrows, who helped rehearse the swing band and led them at all school dances.

During the first part of the year the band was kept busy playing for the crowded football and basketball social hour dances. The swing band took on a more serious note, however, at the Senior Prom, December 8. Dressed in tuxedos, the swing band looked and sounded truly professional. As the year progressed, the band continually played alone for music at such dances as the Junior-Senior Prom and the Sophomore Hop. At the Senior Hi-Y Gay Nineties, just to keep in the spirit of things, a four piece combination gave out with some good old Dixieland music.

With such standbys as George Snell, trumpet; Hal Richardson, trombone; Joe Mendoza, alto sax; Art Upson, drums; Leroy Arnold, bass; and Tommy Burrows, piano; graduating at the end of the year, next year's swing band will have a job on its hands surpassing this year's band. But come what may, it is certain that the Tucson High School Swing Band will continue in the same tradition of fine music.

"Spring Green"

The curtain rose at 8:00 p.m. on Thursday, October 25, on the first play of the year, "Spring Green." Cast from the entire school and adroitly directed by Miss Lillian Cavett, the play was a success from the first rise of the curtain to its last fall on Friday evening. The play is a story about young high school people and their problems, but it also contains an element of romance.

Nina Cassel, the charming mother of two teen-age girls, was portrayed by Prina Stanley. Jean Soulvie played the role of Mrs. Rumble, the acid-tongued, soft-hearted cook. Bob Flood took the part of Mr. Putnam, the peppery grandfather who knits for the Red Cross. Tony Cassel, the average young teen-ager, was played by Freda Marie Peters. Mary Lou Briscoe played the part of Pinkie Ames, the fluttery, boy-crazy blond. Dunk Doyle, "the leader of the high-school pack," was portrayed by Richard Bishop on Thursday evening. Jim Bridges appeared in the same role on Friday evening. Bing Hotchkiss, the buddy of Dunk and boy friend of Pinkie, was played by Carl Lopez. Venice Lindsey presented the role of Genevieve Jones, the neighborhood pest. Major Todd, Nina Cassel's love interest and a misunderstanding father, was played by Jim Bartlett. On Thursday evening Reed Abel appeared as T. Newton Todd, whose only aim in life was to breed "super" earthworms. Brad Tolson was Newton on Friday. Lila Fae Hopper was Eula Hotchkiss, the "ugly duckling" of the play. The absent-minded professor, Dr. Luther Blodgett, was presented by Philip Pfeiffer. Herbert Lahr played the part of Officer Ryan, the blustering small town policeman. Billy, victim of Genevieve, was played by Dick Rykken.

"Arsenic and Old Lace"

The belated production of the Dramatic Owls' play of the year was given February 13 and 14. Originally scheduled for the end of November, "Arsenic" was postponed because of the illness of its original director, James Billingsley, who was replaced by Albert W. Johnson, of radio station KVOA.

"Arsenic and Old Lace" is the story of one hectic day in the life of dramatic critic Mortimer Brewster, who is shocked to discover that his maiden aunts, Abby and Martha, are responsible for the condition of one Mr. Hoskins, "stiff" in the window seat. It seems that the old ladies consider murder as they perform it a sort of charity to Mr. Hoskins and the eleven other homeless, lonely old gentlemen like him who have been their victims. Mortimer feels that he cannot marry his fiance, lovely Elaine Harper, until his aunts explain to him that he is not really their nephew, having been adopted by them when he was a baby. Abby and Martha have a final triumph in despatching a fourteenth victim with a glass of elderberry wine to which has been added arsenic, strychnine, and "just a pinch of cyanide."

Acting honors were carried off by Michael Pistor as Dr. Einstein, Douglas Fulton as Teddy, and Martha Stone as Abby Brewster. Others in the cast were Bob Flood as Mortimer Brewster; Harmon Myers, Jonathan; Helen McIntosh, Elaine Harper; Harvey Slate, Officer O'Hara; Pat Peters, Martha Brewster; Paul Niewold, Mr. Gibbs; Frank Sliva, the Reverend Doctor Harper; Phil Pfeiffer and Tom Fridena, Officers Brophy and Klein; and Eugene Jones, Mr. Witherspoon. Virginia Schreurs was the student directorial assistant.

"What a Life"

Henry Aldrich and his mischief-minded friends cavorted through typical adolescent antics in the Tucson High auditorium, March 20 and 21.

The scene was set for the annual senior play, and this year's choice was "What a Life" by Clifford Goldsmith.

Lloyd Roberts, a newcomer to Tucson High and head of the dramatic department, directed the cast.

John Newburn portrayed Henry Aldrich, a nice boy from an average town who somehow, innocently or otherwise, gets himself into trouble. The sympathetic girlfriend, Barbara Pearson, was depicted by Billie Wharton.

Miss Shea, secretary to Mr. Bradley, the school principal, was played by Jane McIntosh, a Thespian; Mr. Nelson, the assistant principal, by Dick Bishop; a teacher, by Bob Hartman; Bill, a student, by Jack Armstrong; and Miss Eggleston, a teacher, by Colleen Mahoney.

Mr. Vecchitto, a parent, was enacted by Craig Smith; Gertie, a student, by Ann Hutchinson and Shirley Shykofsky; Mr. Bradley, the principal, by Arney Serbin; Miss Wheeler, a teacher, by Jean Soulvie, Thespian; George Bigelow, a student, by Harvey Slate; Mrs. Aldrich, Henry's mother, by Shirley Arter; Mr. Ferguson, from Police Headquarters, by Reed Abel, a Thespian; and Mary, a student, by Clara Mae Franke. Josephine Starker played Miss Johnson, a physical education teacher; Constance Ross, Miss Pike; also a teacher.

Mary Kay Ellington was directorial assistant.

Ann Hutchinson, Peggy Boice, Earlene Boyd, Mary Kay Ellington and Robin Rowell

STUDENT LIFE

Who's

Vice-President of Senior Class, Chronicle Sports Editor and Badger track star are some of the titles that belong to handsome, versatile JIM BARTLETT. Although Jim is one of the busiest individuals in the school, he always finds time to lend a helping hand whenever he is needed. His dependability, loyalty, and friendliness have made Jim one of the most respected and well liked persons in T. H. S.

Hats off to our very amiable student body secretary, PEGGY BOICE! Peg is not only identified by an infectious giggle and a charming personality, but also by Herman, a little wine car with (heaven help us!) orange wheels! Oh, yes, just get her started on horses.

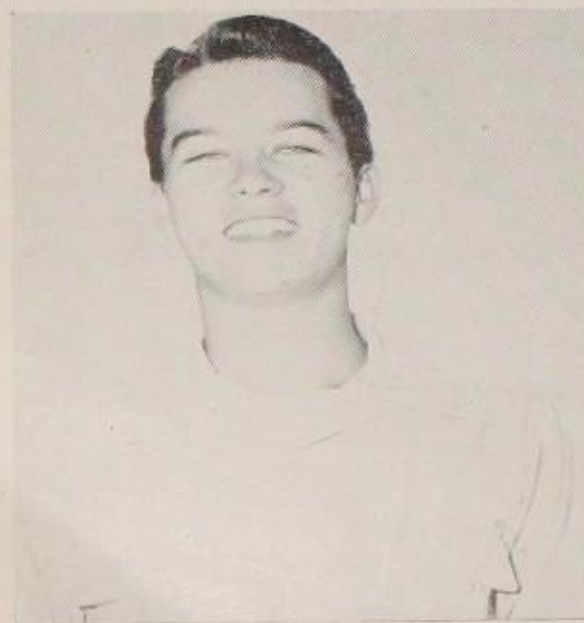

Stocky, fair-haired BOB BOICE held down the important position of Senior Class Councilman this year. He also played a hard game at guard for the Badger footballers. His personality and his consistency as a hard worker are responsible for Bob's being one of the most popular of the graduating class.

The success of the T.H.S. Swing Band can largely be attributed to its capable leader, TOM BURROWS. Although Tom can be distinguished at any school dance banging out harmony from the black and ivory keys of the piano, he can play several instruments equally well. This boy should go far in his chosen field of music.

One of the friendliest, most genial persons ever to grace the halls of T.H.S. is CAROLYN BRADY. As Business Manager on the Chronicle, she fills her job competently and stills finds time to greet everyone cheerfully with the famous "Brady smile."

Managing Editor of the Chronicle is blond PHIL COLEMAN. Quiet and reserved, Phil is an outstanding factor in nearly every form of student activity. With an unaffected, well-rounded personality and a willingness always to do a little more than his share, Phil has gained a host of admiring friends.

Who

Perhaps the busiest girl in school is LORENA De SANCTIS, who still has time for her long line of admiring friends. Editor of the Tucsonian, Secretary of the National Honor Society, President of the Tuc-Hi, Girls' Social Hour, and El Cervantes—need we say more? Dark, attractive Lorena certainly heads the list of all as "A swell girl."

"Showboat" or "Crutch" . . . they both identify the person who holds the position of Tucsonian Managing Editor, WAYNE CRUTCHFIELD. Although Wayne may almost always be seen entertaining his many friends, he is really of quite a serious nature. (It says here!)

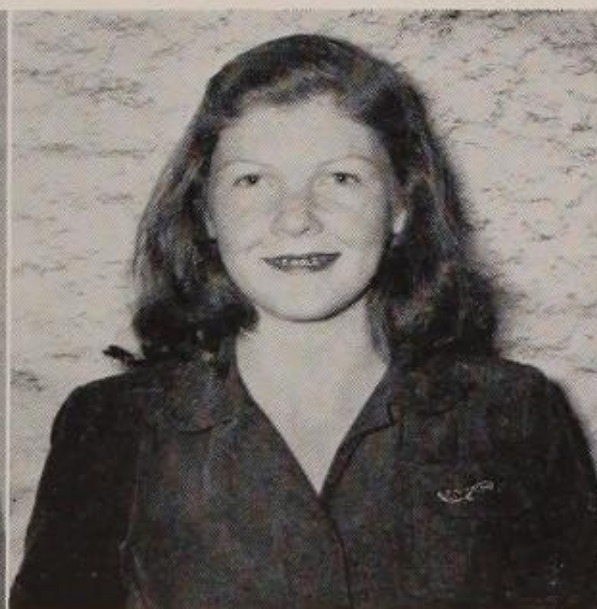

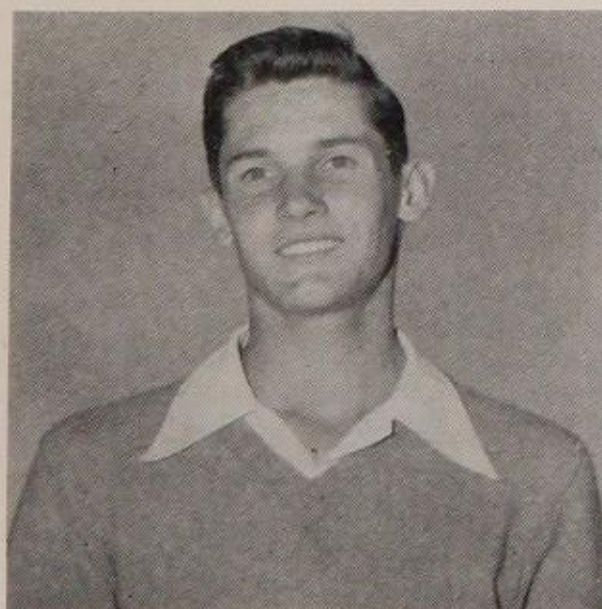

An incomparable sense of humor combined with good looks and capability make MARY KAY ELLINGSTON one of the most outstanding personalities of the senior class. Witty Mary Kay claims a long list of admiring friends she has acquired in her jobs as editor-in-chief of the Quarterly, managing editor of the Tucsonian, and senior class secretary.

If you have noticed a dark-haired lad around the halls who vows the women and swings a dynamic tennis racquet, he is none other than good looking JACK FRAKES. Also an actor, Jack has been outstanding in such dramatic productions as "Our Town." Jack's preciseness and pleasant nature will insure success in anything he attempts.

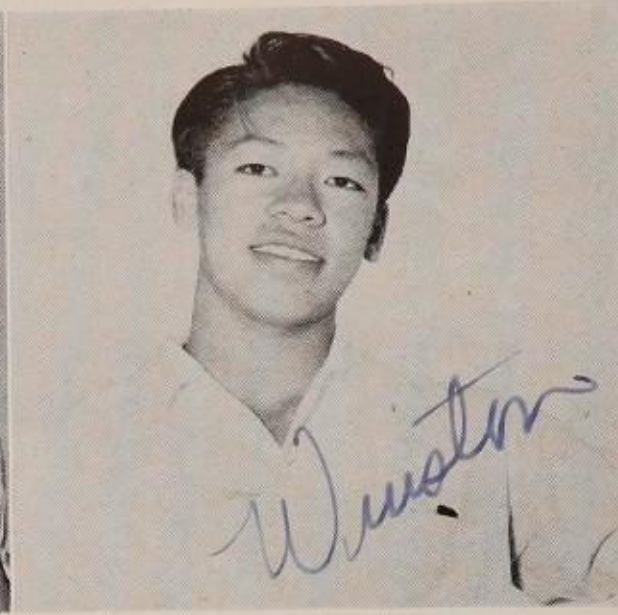

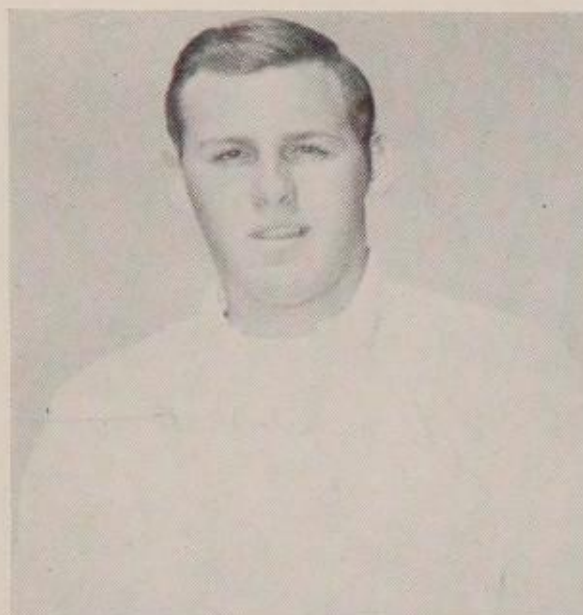

Slender, blue-eyed CONNIE FISH, with her impeccable taste in clothes and her charming personality, is a very popular figure around the halls of T.H.S. "C" stands for capability in Connie's alphabet, as she is advertising manager of the Tucsonian and is on the Chronicle editorial board, National Honor Society, Dean's Committee, and the Social Hour Committee.

Bursting with pep and vitality is everybody's friend, THOMAS DANIEL FRIDENA. Tom's efforts were concentrated throughout the year on performing the many duties of Senior Class President. He also displayed a scrappy brand of football which gained him recognition as center on the 1946 all-state football eleven.

Who's

Good-natured, intelligent DOUG FULTON is liked by everyone. His mental prowess is proved by the fact that he is president of the National Honor Society, while his dramatic talents have been exhibited in many of the school plays, most recent of these being "Arsenic and Old Lace."

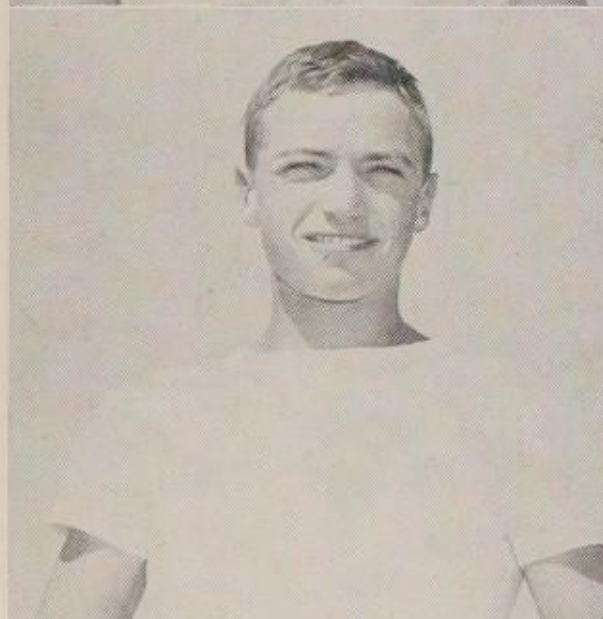

Short, blonde, and cute is our "Chum," MIRIAM HAMILTON. This lady, who makes the distributing of Chronicles possible, also heads the Quarterly circulation department, and very well, too. Although Miriam may not use "Irium," she has a ready smile for even the lowly sophomores.

Dependable, brilliant WINSTON GIN has made a great name for himself in the literary fields of T.H.S. as one of the hardest-working members of the editorial boards of both the Chronicle and Quarterly. From his prolific brain have come many of the fine articles enjoyed and praised by everyone who reads them.

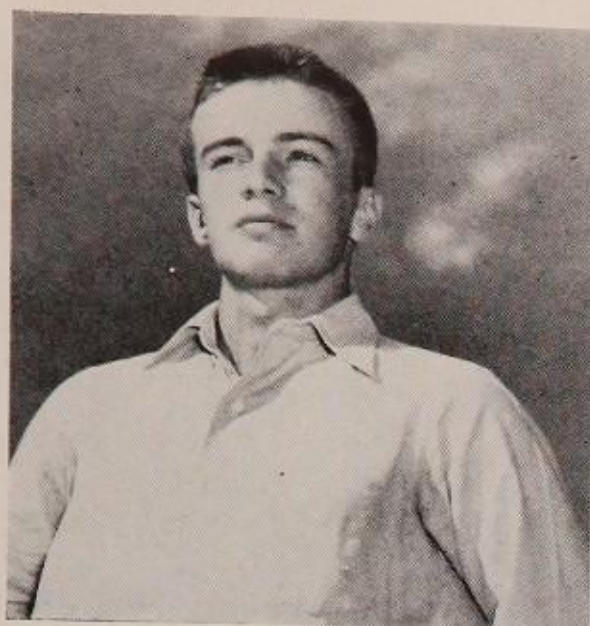

MARY HOLDERNESS certainly fulfills her many jobs—and to the "T." Tall, blonde, blue eyed Mary, with her position of Managing Editor, helped to make this year's Chronicle very successful. Put down on your list of "Likely to Succeed," Mary Holderness.

JOHN NEWBURN, the guy with an infectious grin and a robust laugh, gained fame by his uproarious portrayal of Henry Aldrich in "What a Life." Newburn brought down the house by just acting natural. If you're wanting a good laugh, just drop in on John when he's telling one of his many "stories."

The vivacious 5 feet tall bundle of pep and vigor one might see bustling from one place to another is none other than our Senior Councilman, ANN HUTCHINSON. Beside her duties in the student council, "Rooney" has a finger in about every pie in school. You can place your money on this versatile miss, for she's bound to be a winner

Who

Heading the Chronicle staff this year was its editor, capable BILL OKESON. His ingenuity and untiring effort were very potent factors in making the Chronicle one of the outstanding papers in the United States. He represented Tucson this year at Columbia Scholastic Press Association in New York City. "Okky" can always be identified by his short, bristly hair cut and his warm, hearty smile.

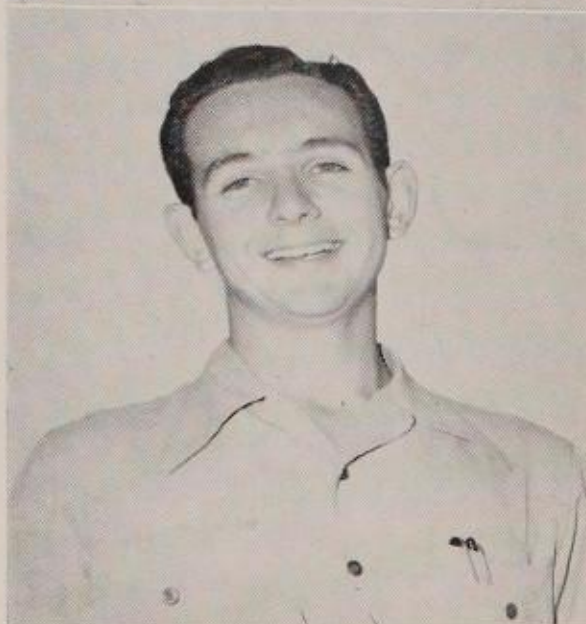

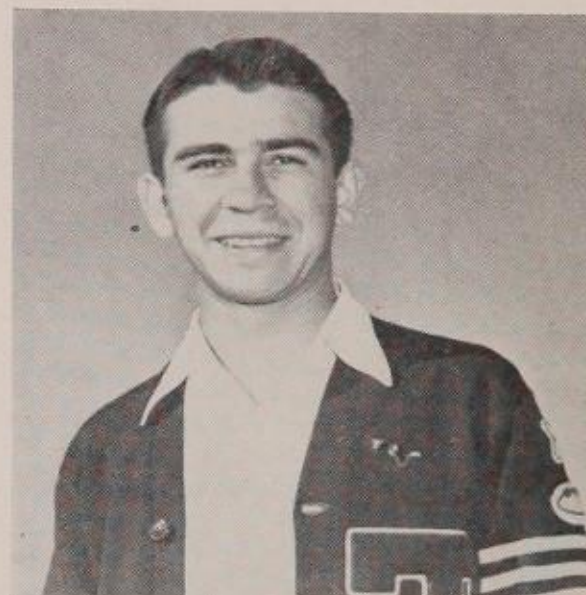

Queen of the T.H.S. tennis courts is vivacious, attractive IRMA PADRES. Congratulations to Irma who has held down the number one rung on the girls' tennis ladder all year in addition to being president of the Girls' T Club and working on the Social Hour Committee, Chronicle, and Tucsonian.

An intelligent and all around good guy are a few of the adjectives that describe likable BILL OVER. Student Body Vice Prexy and Business Manager of the Tucsonian, he handled these responsible positions efficiently. Bill's sense of humor and his smooth personality have done much to carry him to the top.

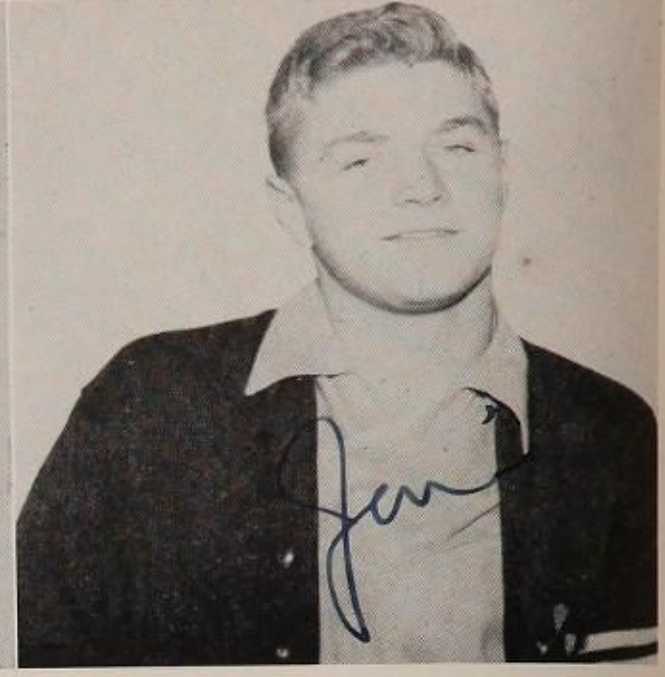

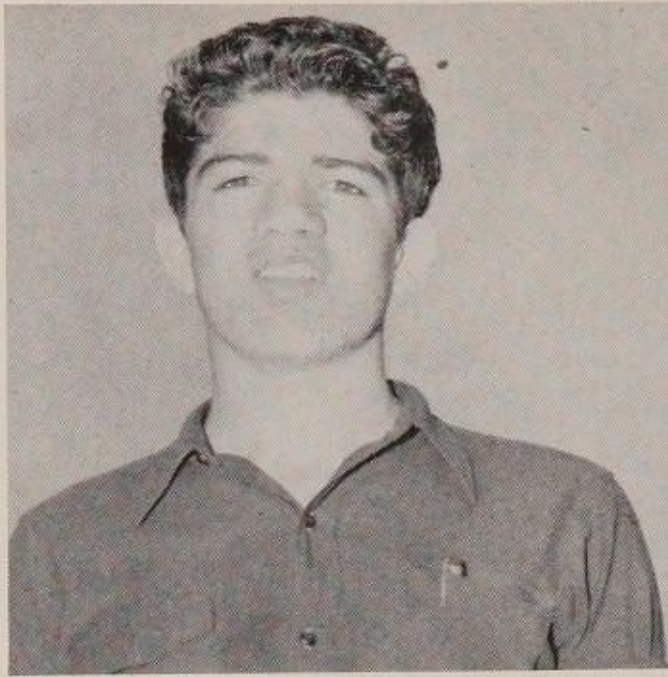

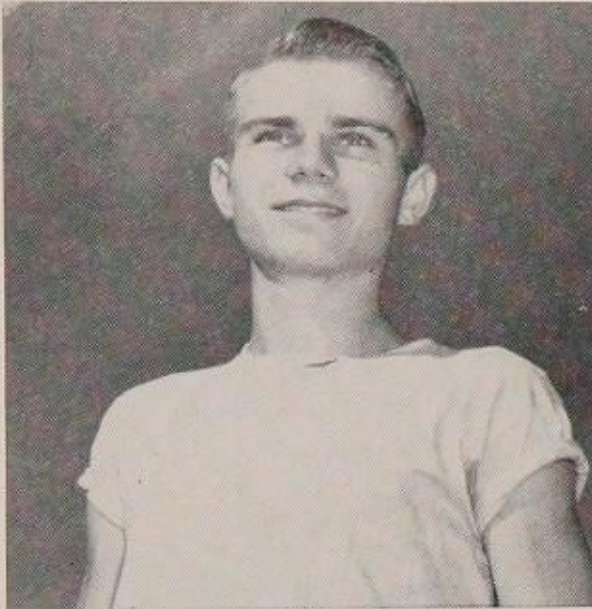

Captain of the 1946 state football champions was modest ART PACHECO. Playing baseball for the Badgers, he also piled up an enviable record in this sport. Art, because of his loyal friendship and his "bashfulness," was respected and admired by all who knew him. Art was graduated in January and entered the army soon after graduation.

Proof of charming ROBIN ROWELL's popularity is the fact that she won this year the coveted title of Rodeo Queen. Red-headed "Tweetie," as she is known to her many friends, can be seen attending each and every Badger function in her important capacity as head photographer of the Chronicle.

Witty, jovial HARVEY SLATE displays a high sense of humor and holds the position of assistant Business Manager on the Chronicle. "Harve" turned in an excellent performance as George Bigelow in the Senior play, "What A Life." Whenever you feel in need of a laugh, "Harve's" the "character" that can drive away the blues.

One of the brightest boys in our midst is CRAIG "PINOCCHIO" SMITH. Having piled up an impressive record since entering T.H.S., Craig is on the editorial board of the Quarterly and is active as Councilman-at-large. In his second year, Smith was tabbed as the Junior most likely to succeed.

Lanky HORNEY THOMAS, a great sportsman who is at his best when the going is toughest, is an all-state basketball forward and a regular fellow. His modest manner and his straight-forwardness have combined to make Horney one of the unforgettables of the class of '46.

Tall, broadshouldered JIM TOLLEY is Student Body President and star guard on the football team. He is noted for his conscientious leadership and his steadfast determination. Although usually calm and collected, Jim sometimes becomes excited while describing some happening, and anyone within range of his flaying arms is apt to suffer.

Merely to say that lively MILFORD WILSON is the possessor of a scintillating personality would be quite insufficient. Millie is the kind of person who always makes you wonder where she gets all her energy and zest and at the same time fills such important positions as Secretary of the Junior Red Cross and Quarterly Editorial Board member.

Here's wishing you loads of love, luck, and laughter in your next years at good old S.H.S. I know that isn't necessary cuz you can get along with your classmates no matter where you are.

If by any chance you don't have me to run around with next year, have loads of fun and keep all the boys guessing.

Lots of love again.

Yours forever
BT,
S.S. ...

Dear Charlotte,
 I sure seems funny calling you Charlotte but I better for the year Book. It's been swell knowing you and lots of good luck as if you need it.

Dear Charlotte (Bubble)

Here's wishing a very darling gal lots of luck. I know you'll be a success with all that you've got.

Best wishes always to a very cute girl. It has really been swell
seeing you around.
Get alot out of High School,
because it is over all too soon. Luck in everything you do.

Martha Stone

Sincerely,
